so i5-750, is a bit more fast? alright thanks

see i start working again for the summer and want to finish building my pc and its i7 intel vs amd Phenom II X4

i mean amd still gonna be fast enough for me since i really dont do anything that has major ram or cpu usages so i think buying the intel parts is just waste of money for speed i would never use on newegg if i build the rest with amd it will come out little more than 500 with intel almost 800

so money is an issue...
