I have joined Staff and I agree some of the moderators arent up to par, but I will do my best keep the other mod's in check and I will report them to the server owner along with regular players.

Speedy059 is doing a great job trying to keep all his mod's in check...if they kick someone on a power trip, like he mentioned....They will be removed.

Perhaps a few of you Renegade vet's could give the server another chance, and if by some chance a mod does go on a power trip let us know!
