You could say that he could harm the renegade community by making more cheats, but that's what he's already been doing, even after people have supposedly made deals with him to stop. That's partially because of:

- The deals that were made (not bypassing RG, now he just hooks something else)
- The fact that RG couldn't be properly updated due to issues with the packer
- The fact that RG couldn't be updated because some needed people disappeared.

Had one of these things not happened RG would've stopped him earlier.
