ok, so Ive had renegade since 2005, and I've been able to play online up until about a year ago because I checked the box saying save your password. As of right now, the memory on my computer was wiped and now I can't play because I can't remember the password. Is there anyway for me to obtain the password, or is there anyway to create another online account and just start over? I would really appreciate some help on this. Thanks!
