I edited what I was originally going to say last night to NOT be nasty, Ack.

The last bit of it was: "sit down and shut the fuck up". Late night, so I don't recall all of it.

You don't pay for the hosting, you don't contribute (other than some fail maps which are better off being deleted). They only rape server counts when they do come up (and that's with making sure most people have them weeks in advance).
