"You are arrogant. Period. He's posted over 15 times??? Maybe a minor exaggeration. His post count only adds up to 8. Who doesn't know there history now?"

Actually thats the only part i'll have to disagree with you on. Take in mind these are the new forums, and everyone's post have been wiped clean. I remember this guy (his name was N/A) from the old forums, and I have seen this topic numerous times. He's always had this canyon modified crap ever since october or so, we have already tried to give him advice as well as to try to get him to do something else besides "Canyon Modified". He even said he would "modify" other maps too (this was in october still) yet he is still stuck on "Canyon Modified". We have tried to give him a push awhile back ago (told him to cut the 100MB down some, as well as how to cut it down as in the steps, what its superfluous, and what is needed), but he just keeps doing the same thing over and over, and its getting tiresome. Even after all this time he hasn't come up with "City Modified" or anything else in the past 6 months! :rolleyes:
