liquidv2 wrote on Mon, 07 November 2011 16:10i already talked to him about this on the jelly forums, he successfully made his way over apparently he was unaware that he was teamkilling or teamdamaging shit; it happened so many times that i just kicked him rather than trying to warn or !qkick him he also wasn't the first person that day to do it, and generally i assume that if someone knows how to teamkill something they should know not to do it or that it's probably not allowed as far as i know he's already able to get back in the server and to answer your question starbuzz, apparently jewed = kicked Wait, I'm confused. How does hopping in and out of a light tank cause his team to take damage?

I know about the glitch when you fire the cannon and jump out, the shot becomes neutral and then damages anything... but he said he was in the passenger seat and passengers don't have access to the cannon unless the driver gives it to them.
