She's had 3 days to cool down now so I'm hoping she'll talk to me again

And she doesnt respond when she's mad its like she wants to stay mad and wont let it go. Ahh she's just like my dad, takes too much pride in herself! I mean sometimes when I'm angry I want to be left alone too. But if she were to come to me when I was angry and wanted to talk because she was concerned about me that would just by itself make me feel better.
