that's the sound of a shitty mod never getting finished wallyworld for president and i actually thought he had someone else type his last post because the correct grammar usage had increased so much but then it went back to pre-2nd grade level again he should bribe a 2nd grader with new ps3 games to proof-read his posts before he makes them tbh, the whole "i'm leaving with my hands held high thing" made me think of that picture of that kid winning the special olympics except i don't think wally is capable of winning anything

After you mentioned it, and reading that part of his post again, I laughed my ass off.

We haven't had any good drama on the forums in a good while. Thanks BHP people for bringing it here! We would have preferred the Reborn mod, but this'll do until then.
