Hey,

as u might have noticed important things changed in the past 14 days here at area54. If u arent aware of the whole situation im gonna sum it up for you

by just saying a54 is about to destroy itself and the majority of players and mods i have been talking to bout it are already focussed on a new project

i started working on 3 weeks ago. Much rumors happened in the past over all diff. forums,mainly focussed on me and the way a54 gets handled. SODPaddy as the owner then decided to not back up his member. He removed me and shaitan from his modlist after we spend a lot of time to push a54 forward.

That was caused due to the fact the others coms started to bitch and laugh at him,where me and shaitan stepped up and said hey,a54 is doing good.

Unfort. Paddy as the owner decided then to leave us alone and to stop the bitching by just removing us. Uncalled for to say we were very surprised.

But that even helped me to finish my new Project: As i already said most of the regulars and the modteam including the Botowner with the mod we were running back the days are starting our own new Community. U can find the Details here [link removed]

We are nearly finished with the Webside,the TS is already up and within the next days we will launch our own RenServer with the Mod we started here.

Needless to say that we as the majority wont let this Com going down like Paddy did,so if u want to play with us and enjoy the fun we once had @ a54,feel free to come over,register and join this whole new project. I would be glad to see ur name registering,but would like to ask u to not make the project public yet,so we can start all together once the server is done.

Hope i could enlighten u a bit of what happened and whats going on in the next days.

See you soon and hope we meet each other at the =RG= renagmerz.eu AOW Server.

If u have anymore questions feel free to ask!
