Regarding mokojinn hugging, that was resolved internally a while ago and he hasn't done that shit again since. Any moderators caught breaking the rules will be subject to punishment.

watch this thread vanish ?

Fairness is very important to me and I made sure I addressed this internally. The thread wont vanish as it was a genuine complaint and got dealt with as such. Just because we don't post about it in public, does not mean it was not dealt with.

I don't blame the other moderators for not being amicable with you, you have a long history of hugging and badmouthing the server which is why they said what they did.

You was only banned from the forums for the all the trolling you was doing, you are not banned ingame and you wont be as long as you follow the rules.
