too many dumbasses that are just too easy to hit, u get used to it and when u play an experienced player, u'll be in trouble

You also just learn not to bother as much in public since people do such boring and retarded shit like, camp certain spots, sbh all game, dont care about harv, block, and an unending list of stupid shit people do.

Then you aren't on edge because people aren't constantly attacking you, and doing everything they can to kill you, you aren't as quick and you aren't as good. cw players aren't as good in public as in cw games, but they are STILL better than pub players.

It's just not really worth the effort bothering when people are playing with the intent not to win the game, but with the intent just not to die.
