maj.boredomGriever92its called, Firewall. all the school's comps are routed through one server, then a firewall.
...and out to the world under one IP address. There are over 1000 employees that access the internet by one IP where I work.

There's no way to prove that it wasn't his buddy sitting next to him.

see, at least one person isnt a complete fucktard and believes me.

Maj.Bordom atleast knows WTF he's talking about.
