Stop discussing your favorite political hacks please, you have to understand that power corrupts and the corrupt seek power, and if voting actually made a significant difference, they wouldn't let you do it. Off course it's rather convenient when people think they are free because they got voting rights which allows them to choose between evil, evil and evil.

The US in the final stage of getting what has been coming for it since the start of the Vietnam war or even before that.

The reason it has been able to postpone it for so long is because it was once a great nation and it still has the global reserve currency, but it wont take much longer before significant changes come around and if you pay attention you can already see the signs.

Discussing who would be in a position to control the once so great nation of America better than Obama or other things closely related is really nothing more rearranging the deck chairs on the titanic. The chosen path to self destruction has been carved out way before baby Bush or Obama took office.
