Subject: renx crashing
Posted by --oo00o00oo-- on Wed, 29 Oct 2003 18:45:21 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

i have already put out 3 maps fine and dandy. now i start to make a forth map, i export to level edit a few times to test it and it works fine, same as normal. but recently after i edited the 4th map some more and then i go to export it again, it gets around 50% in the exporting process and "An error has occoured. Would you like to attempt to save" pops up in the background. fisrt i thought this was a fluke so i just close renx, reopened the file and as a test i delete the object that is crashed on and try to export again. same thing just on another object. so now i start thinking that this file maybe corrupt. but again, others told me of some changes i should make to my 3rd map, which works fine and is already on a site for download. so i start to edit my 3rd and i get all the extras things add and im ready to exprot to level edit to conintue from there. now about 50% through the exporting process i recieve the same error. any idea, thoughts, suggestions??? im stumped...