its actually the bots and scripts they are running.. with all the players and all the logs the bots have a lot of logs to search thru for ladders recommendations.. if they are banned and for what reason...

becoming a strain on servers... even tho all these new things make the servers kewl.. the lag totally ruins it.. it is almost unplayable on most servers

Uh.... don't think so. Do you know how processor intensive the FDS actually is? It does Far more crunching than any server bots that are out there..

I just logged in to my server, it's been up for abut 56 hours.

System Idle Process 46:21:50

Server.dat 8:38:09

csrss.exe 0:17:46

explorer.exe 0:10:08

java.exe 0:04:01

In the 8.5 full hours of CPU time that the FDS has used, our admin bot has used 4 minutes.

They definately aren't competing for CPU time..
