im not saying i suck...but i don't think that i should be considered lower than anybody because i havn't been using ps for very long. not saying that i should be lifted high either. it's too early to judge where i'll be at. if i'm better than some, so what, doesn't mean jack to me. I could have a white document with a 1 pixel dot on it and still be better than my brother.

i guess what i'm tryin to say is...everyone who says i suck...well then fuck you because i havn't had much time to learn. if you spent only 1 week in ps...i'd like to see your shit as good or better than mine. to all those who say i'm pretty decent...i don't really think i'm all that good, i think i've produced some quality work from the time i've been in photoshop, but i don't have enough skill or experience to be told that i'm good.
