Unreal Tournament and Unreal are supposedly from the same company, and another amazing thing is that both games can load the same format wow, i wonder what the difference is between the games?

Lets look into this a bit more:
Different Storyline
Different Gameplay
Different Models,Textures,Programming And So Forth.

Thus making it a complete unique game, go and read about unreal and unreal tournament on their website and dont waste your time around here posting about stuff you don't even know about.
