I dont buy his story. Here is why:

1. All of the sudden he remembers he has a virus when it is mentioned.
2. I have had this virus and you can't play renegade when you have it without reinstalling and repatching everytime. The reason here being is it does infect exes and it alters Game.exe so it ceases to function.

Proof (Taken from my dads computer, I never reinstalled renegade after Game.exe was infected.)

This may seem farfetched but I think he got the virus and put it on his computer to save himself.

Also doesnt he say he can't reinstall renegade and then says he will reformat and reinstall xp. How that fix anything because would you still not be able to reinstall renegade? Did I miss something?
