And soon your server will be filling up again.

23 players, not too shabby. If you want to enforce your server with RenGuard, you have to stick to your guns. If you "wimp out" and turn off RenGuard protection because "no one" is downloading it, you're not giving anyone a reason TO download it.

There have been over 4500 successful installations of RenGuard so far. Idle in your own server if you have to in order to get other people in the game (most people don't like to sit in an empty server waiting for an opponent)...

We also have an upgrade scheduled in about 5 hours from now (6PM PST April 14th, 2AM GMT April 15th)... which should clear up the problem with people being told they don't have RenGuard when they do.

And if you're still running SSC 1.0 or BRenBot 1.33, UPGRADE NOW to help resolve the issues that came out this last week.
