The only evidence we have that 'Jesus' ever existed is by a Bible who was written by someone so confused, they couldn't decide on what to call themself.

Then, someone decided to write an addon to the 'Bible', and even they were confused to what to call themself!

Hey! Let's all pray to the Bible because the Bible says so! Gee, if the Dictionary said to die, would we? If a comedian said the world will end in 2000, would we believe it?
