j_ball430flyingfoxA tool to the joke of course.

What joke? Are you saying that you were acting n00bish on purpose so as to make a few laughs? If so, that didn't work because people believed you were that big of a moron. I certainly did.

Yes, and that's the funny part.

Sometimes, something is just not funny unless you act serious. It's like a prank phone call for example. You act like you really want to buy xxx videos from a corner shop or something. The shopkeeper is like "no, sorry, we don't stock those here but you could try movieworld a few blocks down, it's a good one." And you reply "Is it? Cuz I could really go for some hot action I swear I'm dying here!"

Of course, this doesn't really have any place in "tactics and strategies"
