I use snipers more often than not if I'm in a server that allows them. It's not as if I'm getting constantly owned with them, either. I keep a usual KD ratio of 2.0 through 20.0 each game I play, and a lot of that comes from just nailing people in the head over and over.

I think it's more along the lines that you don't want this fixed because you don't want to lose your advantage. That's fine, if you want to go on thinking that your only way of winning a "sniper" battle was to flicker at warp five, preventing them from hitting you.
