DarkFishExcept you're forgetting that otherwise the server would not be running it at all. This is a tool for moderators to be able to rule out people. If you are a good player, then the most sensible option is to run RG, and to be ruled out. This means that if a player is doing suspiciously well, and is not running RG, it is more likely that they are cheating, and the moderators know who to ask for a SS.

I like this idea,

RG should be optional, not the kick.

If someone I think is hacking, but not 100% sure I will tell them look you need to get rengurad on this server or I will kick you.

At least now we will know that the players that are doing good & have renguard are not cheating.
