i know that many people will not like my idea, but why not putting some publicity on the page renguard open to support the software, many sites (like the-underdogs) are puting some ads to be able to pay they bandwith, i dont say it should be done now, but when renguard will become too expensive for its creator and for the donator, it would be a way to allow renguard to grow larger and larger ps: of course im not talking about silly pop up windows or XXX adds but about "normal" ads
