Dude, Reborn's not shit, it used to be, but it isn't any more. Wait until the next version is released before you go bashing something that I believe is roughly a year old. You know what is shit?

Commando - They've never released anything publicly yet, all the models look terrible except the ones made by Westwood, and it seems like 9/10 of their time is spent figuring out how to use crappy effects like specular whose only apparent purpose is making models look worse.
