This image has gone around the world like three times. The story is people change what is said on the cardboard sign, which the little Iraqi boy holds. Here is the latest. If you wish to add to the endeavor, simply copy picture, edit the sign, and repost for a good laugh by others.

Not only is this VERY old, I also find this a very stupid joke.

Just my opinion.

How do you do it using that image? perhaps copy the exact colour used on the cardboard and use it to 'rub out' the text?

then I suppose you write in your text as normal, on top of the cardboard and rotate it some degrees clockwise to make it look like it's coming off of the face...yeah I know. sorry.

You do it at a site and type in what you want it to say, then it automatically does it for you.

Thats so damn old. You don't even need to edit it. There wa a website somewhere where you could just type a message in, and through the magic of PHP, it would appear on the card.

EDIT: Sorry didn't see last 2 posts.
