lol, it would be funny if it said:
Connection Successful!
Connection LOST.
Disconnecting...

NICE FIND!

LOL, that is messed up...

Did you simply get that by creating a server?

Mmhmm, I used my normal settings.. it was a bit laggy the other day, so perhaps that caused it.
Still, the error message sounds funny as hell.. ^_^

I bet EA is trying to brainwash children to make them more stupid by creating those messed up errors.

I don't feel like encouraging EA to completely abandon the native online support of the game

client, nor do I feel like using Spyware

EA will do as they please, they dont care about us, all they care about is Madden and how to make it pad their pockets some more.

How do you stand those ridiculous names people have...? They are so stupid, extremely long, screws up the tabbed player stats. I have never understood the benifits. You also have to use third party software rather then native support. Sounds like a poorly applied band-aid.

(I have played on GSA before, the 4 months of the mutli player demo)

my name isnt long ([GDE]gbull, [GDE]LyKeUhFoX) and I use Gamespy because of my clan tags, not to mention most of the people that I play with use it (UN clan, Oz clan) Not to mention I have NEVER had connection problems with GSA, and on WOL I did. Im not saying GSA is perfect or is Awesome, im just saying I like it more than WOL.

I used to play on WOL ever since C&C came out. But when it came to Renegade, I had problems etc... So I switched to Gamespy. I thought it was great. They have some ads, but the number of ads and other gayness is pretty much gone now.
Its worth using. I want to know why people think it sucks.

[GDE]LyKeUhFoX- 14 characters.
Chronojam- 9 characters

That name is 155% as long as normal WOL names... and causes stretching on the stats listings, which is rather irritating. Sometimes players do not even have visible stats at all from their names.

Ummm... I don't know what you are talking about. The stat stretching thing happened on the demo, but renegade was patched since v1.019. That stuff doesn't happen anymore.

And people can't have absurdly long screwed up names. There is a limit.

GSA has a 20 character limit. It's RenIP that allows the insane names.

I never liked GSA much, but the other day I downloaded it when WOL went down. GSA 2.0 is MUCH better than before. And there is only 1 ad(if non-subscribed) before you get to the game listings. It also lets you see the game stats on the side now, with the players, their scores, and their pings. Along with all the game rules, if they're running BR, ect, below that.

Most servers run WOLSPY now anyway, it is built into the new BrenBot after all. So it's all preference now, there really isn't much difference anymore.
