Hello there....

I am in seek of help...

i would love to know how to make a mod serverside...

Example: Rocket Gun Shoots Laser...
server sided...

Any help towards this would be greatly apprecheated....

Thanks for your time!

Example: Rocket Gun Shoots Laser...
server sided...

The problem is that is client sede, the only thing i can think of is remove the rocket launcher from the gunner and give him a laser rifle.

apprecheated? Is that some kind of hint that you are going to use this information to create cheats? Or did you mean apprechiated?

Anyhow , I have no idea. I do not know the first thing about server side modding.

This is actually possible, you need to edit some presets and create a new objects.ddb file. However as he mentioned in another post, this method can also be used for cheating or server side modding. Imagine someone using the obilisk gun, but client side...

Can you all explain something to me? Why do some ppl start bitching about small and simple spelling or grammar mistakes?

I mean who gives a f if AlienWorkShop misspelled appreciated and spelled it >>> "apprecheated" all it does is has an extra h and e instead of i and just by reading "Any help towards this would be greatly" i could already know what the next word should be....

This is not an English class I'm sure you all understood what he meant, there is no need to point out mistakes.

6 out of 8 replies are about spelling only 2 are actually trying to help....

Same thing goes for spelling.

*Grammar
*I (x2)

NaamloosWell i wouldn't mind of someone points out a grammer error i made, helps me improve my english.

---

well like Vitaminous pointed out you misspelled
"grammer and i"

and also I'm almost sure that english should be capitalized.
as well as "i wouldn't mind of someone points out" that of should be an "if"

Edit: now that i look at it "helps me improve my english.", I feel like it's missing something just before the helps. I would add/change which helps me... or which would help me...

Oh, but what purpose does that serve (other than the obvious fixing of his spelling and grammar)?
