I was going to praise DJM for his irony, but after all the posts of dot, apostrophe etc. I feel I have to also point out that that is stupid.

Cmon, I know I just started HTML but even I know how to change the background color.

Well, Im still not going to bash you so here are some codes:

To change the whole body background

or if you want a custom color

To change the bgcolor of a table

<td bgcolor="black"> or for custom insert the numbers

The numbers are known as a 6 digit hex code
