http://www.mpmaps.net/downloads/renegade/maps/maps.txt < anyone know
maps that are not yet listed on here? (for UberMapPack)

I know "Bunkers.mix" is not on the list, because there is a BunkersTS version i wont include Bunkers for example, same goes for Mines & MinesTS(newer)

The original bunkers (Set in night time and with base defence) is much much better than TS. just remove TS and keep the original. Far more fun.

So how many authors did you contact and ask if they wanted their copyrighted work distributed together?

Aircraftkiller a.k.a. ACKSo how many authors did you contact and ask if they wanted their copyrighted work distributed together?

how many would care?
aslong as people are given credit where it is due most people would not give 2 shits

You don't speak for anyone but yourself here, so whether or not you think they care is pretty irrelevant.

Personally, I don't think the Renegade community cares. Besides, most authors don't include a copyright notice in their readmes.

What you think doesn't matter. What the authors think is what matters. A copyright doesn't have to be labeled, it exists when you create something.

If you didn't want your maps distributed, you shouldn't have released them. Stop causing trouble. Why don't you go do something else like switching 3D engines again?

I never said anything about my work, now did I? Simply releasing a file doesn't mean you want it distributed everywhere.

Of course, because as we all know that something being publically released shouldn't be spread around the internet, I mean, it's only public ffs. :rolleyes:

That isn't the point at all. When you make something you expect to have your wishes followed. A lot of level designers are very adamant about this.

You can remove C&C_Militia, since it was my first and only attempt at creating a level, most of the thing is missing textures now.

Remember the days of the ack -> AirCraftKiller filter?
