Um. . . Okay. Does RenGuard force Command & Conquer: Renegade to always run in Laddered Mode, even if you're playing in Multiplayer Practice mode? I really don't like not having those extra vehicles available to screw around with when I'm bored and whatnot. I've tried turning off Lattered Mode in my Skirmish configuration, but apparently, RenGuard just forces it right back into Lattered Mode, playing single player, or playing Skirmish mode. Either I did something wrong, or something just plain is not working correctly with RenGuard. What can be done?

When playing single player or multiplayer practice, just open Game2.exe and it won't run Renguard.

If you mean "laddered" mode, no, RenGuard does nothing of the sort. RenGuard doesn't change anything about your Renegade executable file at all.

That, too.

Anyway. . . I tried running "Game2.EXE". No RenGuard, but it still forced my game into Laddered Mode, thus disabling the Extras. It didn't do this before I installed RenGuard. . . Plus, when I installed RenGuard, some of the fonts and whatnot changed. So I don't know. Something's screwy.

No,that's Core Patch 1 that changes your fonts.

Are You typing in extras in the F8 menu?

As far as I know, F8 and the Tilde(~) keys both do the same thing. And that's exactly where I'm typing "Extras FNKQRRM" and "Extras". It's telling me "Not Allowed in Laddered Games," even though I specifically turned the Laddered Games switch to "Off" in the INI file.

Edit: Okay, got it. I just deleted the INI file. Now everything's working fine. Sorry about the minor hoopla.
