As the topic suggests, I require a bit of assistance. I've been tasked in my English class to give a speech on netiquette, and while I have some good idea's, I need assistance in finding valuable examples.

So: I know there are many examples on this forum of poor netiquette, however, getting everything from here won't complete the big picture. If anyone has some great examples of poor netiquette, post them! Please provide a link, or in the case of a forum that requires registration, upload or post a screenshot.

Oh, and don't worry, to all those here guilty of poor netiquette, I won't be mentioning names.

If you don't know what defines good netiquette, go here.

View each and every non-sticky topic on the first page, I guarantee you'll find someone there. Then, if you want to see more, click on the Forums button at the top, and head over to Clans near the bottom. Find the custom signature thread, and read it from the beginning. Most of them are just bumps, I warn you, but it still remains that there is a lot of poor netiquette in that topic.

heh, more or less. I'm just looking for different examples of how not to act. It's going to be aimed at a business perspective, and any great examples of what not to do helps. the stuff that I'm covering can be found on that website I posted earlier.

I can't believe I didn't think of that. To think that I of all people wouldn't think about him, when I've been reminded of him every time people use that stupid thumbs up smiley...
