Under. Not quite so wide open as Field, much more cover for vehicles to use while blowing each other to bits.

Field for the arty/med PWNage and ummmmm Volcano for sneaking in the base with techies/hotties.

City flying in pretty big CW's as it needs lots of teamwork.

Other than that: Lunar Landing is great too but a very fast map, just like snow.

Damn, i guess that I like most maps around, just couldn't pick one .

Because of the atmosphere, big bases, nice mapping and teamplay based. Too bad for a certain bug on the map.

Well i dont know. I kinda wonder what there response would be if i went into some kindof Therapy Center or something and they asked what the problem was and i was too say

"I like a map on C&C Renegade that I'm not supposed to like"

They would probably throw me in the Mental Hospital.

C&C_Cairo is my favourite. Even though it is a "fanmap/newmap".

I like the 3 AGTs & 3 Oblisks there. Great APC rushes can be had by both sides & sniping a plenty

If i were to choose a "Default" map then it has to be C&C_WallsFlying. All good fun for all!!

My fav map is gonna have to be Desert Siege 2 (Fanmap/newmap) Its a very large map that requires alot of teamplay, if you manage to knock off the power or destory the tower, you have like a 200ft sniper point which can be fun at time.

www.renmaps.com

I think its still there for download.

I hate walls_flying because it's infested with snipers who stand on the wall and shoot everything they see. because of said action when i or my team manages to kill one they can afford another due to points they got.

Field is a pretty good map in that if you want tank fights you can easily go in the field and if you wanted to practice infantry the tunnels is perfect for that.

City_Flying is fun because even if there are snipers you can usually avoid them by not being in their LOS.

non defence map would be islands
