The WOL clan pages have been down for ages, and XWIS apparently has no intention of creating any kind of Ren clanning functionality. The only support for Renegade clanning is a league, here http://www.clanwars.cc/?League=41

All you need to do to play on the league is get each of your members to "Join the League" on that site, make a clan, and send an invite to each of your players. Then when you play a clanwar, just have everyone play on the right name.

of course they'll have to know how to report, since they'll be doing a lot of that :/
