I agree its being a peice of crap. It feels like the program is going to ban you for something that you released and has not been touched. I do not enjoy reinstalling the Game2.exe file just to say its corrupted.

Wtf Kind of safe gaurd is this programs for gammers when it DOES make false positives and makes incorrecj judgements and causing you to reinstall just to save your game CD key/IP

It was never our INTENT for you to have these sorts of problems and we ARE working on a better version. But you have to understand with around 20,000 players using the software we can't just roll out a version without extensive testing (we tried that once, it didn't work so well).
