Try just saving it as a .TGA, that ought to work. Or, alternatively, get a half-decent image-editing program.

I love your sniperskin, it's just so....ugly.
What the hell are you trying to achieve with skins like that?

If you want an advantage over other players, how about you just download real cheats instead.

Theres no point in having a florecent head, just aim above the body.

If you really did take part in the beta, you would know that the game has only been out for 4 years. And green neon heads do not make your game look better, because those skins don't even look anything near decent.

Kimo, that HUD is the second ugliest thing I've ever seen, the first being your sniper skin.

Why do it?

Don't you guys have better things to do than flame. Why do it? What you said so far are the ugliest things I've heard. What the hell are you trying to achieve with words like that. If you want more attention than other posters, how about you just post an animated banner saying "im a flaming imbecile".
