Just to let anyone know who might be interested, Virtually all BBF renegade members have now left the clan - we had some major disagreements with the management and as a result most of us will be starting a new clan, atm this is named PA and forums are here:
http://z4.invisionfree.com/Psychos\_Anonymous/index.php?act=idx

Will have things up and running shortly, but until then feel free to drop by if you are interested in joining/challenging us.

Second actually.

The first time I quit, then almost everyone else followed me. The leaders are up to the same b.s. again from the looks of it and all the people who stayed when I quit plus the new recruits all quit. I might be joining PA since I have a few buddies in it.

Thanks Bart, it is true the Renegade Div. of BBF lost some very cool people last July it was a big falling out and most joined PA and SA and DOR I miss all of them they were great people and are my friends. But the Renegade Div. of BBF came back to 17 members at the last rollcall so it is not "Dead" hurt yes for sure but not dead. If you are looking for a clan to join we could use a few more good people to help us start over again. You should also check out the clans my friends joined because if they joined them they must be good too.

You cant say that the division died just cause members decided to leave. As long as i see a members list in the renegade section on BBF forums then its "alive". I dont its your call to say its dead cause some silly members decided to leave.

In defense of those who left they didn't decide one day to up and leave, it took a decent month of disappointments and failures by the leadership, combined with a couple of arguable calls that led to the break away.

The first time it was Almor making some suggestions which led to an all out fight (not Almors fault btw.), the second time it was very similar, and centered around the leadership believing more in themselves than listening to the divison.

The stuff that happened that made people leave was out of most of our control. Ren section of our clan just got the effect of it. Yes we had some problems and yes it was mostly with some of the admin and a few other but we have all that taken care of now. We do manage our clan well it is just some times things happen that we can not for see to keep them from happening. We have gotten back on the better road and we are doing what we need to do again to get things right. We all have problems no one is perfect but we are doing our best and we are alive again.
