I just wanted to let you know if anyone shows up in any servers other than Black-Cell in the next few days using my nickname, it's hardkil impersonating me, so please don't use a perm ban if you don't have to. After that, I'll find a way to prove it's actually me. However, based upon what he actually said and did, and the fact that he's only used one IP in all the time he's been at Black-Cell, I doubt he can carry out his threats of stealing my IP, etc. If anyone's interested, here's a screenshot, and the log excerpt. Have half an hour of fun from our hour of fun.

Yeah, that's true, but this is how he claimed the contract is accepted:

I have read these replies and I have to say how old is everyone that replied to this forum.... eight? Havoc9826 is a complete moron. Do you even know Hardkil? I have know him for years and he has worked on many of the games you people play. First off why would a person that has been running Renegade servers for over 5 years on Westwood and GSA play on a Black-cell server? Please tell me I am very interested. Secondly, Hardkil doesn't even play Renegade he just runs servers for you newbs. Kids these days have lack of education and no respect as you can plainly see by the comments in this forum posted by wannabe's like Black-Cell and the people they have in charge such as this character Havoc. Whoever, that moron is should be writing an apology and posting that up here. Not posting up some pathetic call out "I just wanted to let you know if anyone shows up in any servers other than Black-Cell in the next few days using my nickname, it's hardkil impersonating me, so please don't use a perm ban if you don't have to. After that, I'll find a way to prove it's actually me" This really makes me laugh..... You're going to prove your ID is you. Isn't that ironic in the sense that you never stopped to think that the person you are bad mouthing on here isn't the person that was on your crappy server?

{IRA}IronHorse wrote on Wed, 02 August 2006 21:14 First off why would a person that has been running Renegade servers for over 5 years on Westwood and GSA play on a Black-cell server? First of all, Renegade has not been running on public servers for 5 years, since it was only released to retail stores on February 26, 2002. Quote: Kids these days have lack of education and no respect as you can plainly see by the comments in this forum posted by wannabe's like Black-Cell and the people they have in charge such as this character Havoc.

You're telling me I don't know who hardkil is, but you're assuming I'm young and uneducated. Right now, I am nearly 21 years of age. I graduated Taft High School in the Honors Program, was an AP Scholar With Honor, was a member of the California Scholarship Federation, received the Governor's Scholar Award twice for my Stanford-9 scores, and I am currently attending the University of California at Santa Barbara. I guess that means I'm uneducated. I think that's enough about my academic history, though. As for the lack of respect, I believe that anyone who threatens to do harm to others deserves no respect whatsoever. Regarding my status, I'm only a half-mod at Black-Cell, so I have absolutely no executive power. I only enforce rules, and one of them is "do not threaten other players or the server". It's not explicitly stated on our rules page, but it should be fairly obvious to anyone with a brain that threatening to hack people and send them worms is wrong.

Quote: Whoever, that moron is should be writing an apology and posting that up here. Not posting up some pathetic call out "I just wanted to let you know if anyone shows up in any servers other than Black-Cell in the next few days using my nickname, it's hardkil impersonating me, so please don't use a perm ban if you don't have to. Isn't that ironic in the sense that you never stopped to think that the person you are bad mouthing on here isn't the person that was on your crappy server?

Again, I will not apologize to anyone who deserves no respect. It is not a pathetic call to anyone to advise them that someone has threatened to assume my identity. Hell, in real life (something I'm sure hardkil has not experienced yet), you are required to advise banks and other people with whom you have a financial interest within a reasonable time period if your identity is stolen, or you become liable for the fraudulent charges made in your name. Also, server owners can check my IP against the ones in Black-Cell, and since I only use verizon.net and resnet.ucsb.edu, it shouldn't be hard to prove it's really me anyway. It would just be an inconvenience. Plus, regarding the irony, like I said the other day,

[01:49:58] <havoc9826> yeah, hi hardkil, thought it might be you

[01:50:05] <havoc9826> your IP is showing

Today I will say this:

[21:24:09] <%havoc9826> !iplog hardkil
[21:24:09] <&BCServ4> hardkil has used 1 IP(s):
[21:24:09] <&BCServ4> 66..

[21:24:19] * Dns resolving 66..
[21:24:19] * Dns resolved 66.. to *.hsd1.ca.comcast.net

Now let's look at this:

Hi hardkil, nice double post. You've just made my day again I guess you were wrong about renegadeforums being abandoned. I hope you're enjoying the taste of your foot. A little bit of advice: if you're going to try to act like an e-thug who is older than everybody else, do a little research on the crap you're going to try to fling before you fling it. Have a nice life!

Thoroughly owned. Although IronHorse made it a bit obvious on who he was, seeing how he only has a post count of three. Not a very good job at hiding the fact that the account was created solely for the purpose of defending himself under another name.

Logan said, at one point during Single PlayerExcellant show, Havoc. Keep up the good work.

By the way, I'm almost positive that ca.comcast.net is California, for anyone who's interested.

This truely shows how stupid you are. All Comcast customers in and around certain areas in Cali have hsd1.ca.comcast.net Allow me to break it down since you obviously are a tard. hsd1 stands for the Comcast server in which the customer connects through. ca = location, and well the rest you can figure out Comcast = faster then DSL. Sorry to hurt your feelings but, there you go again running off at the mouth without even knowing who you're talking to. Oh, and just to let you know Mr 21 yrs old and going to college in Santa Monica I spent six years in the United States Marine Corps 1992-1998. Whenever you want to talk about life experiences let me know. I live in California too so, we can get together and talk about who has done more in life.

Oh look, you joined our IRC network again while I was at work yesterday.

FYI, since you didn't listen on IRC, your IP address is broadcast to game servers when you play, and sometimes, your subnet is displayed in IRC. IP addresses are also embedded in e-mail headers, so every e-mail you send has your IP address in it (unless you know how to spoof an IP). Also, I did not give away your entire IP address to anyone who does not already have access to it (Black-Cell staff only). I never asked anyone to use your IP to hack a game server supposedly running on that IP, nor do I condone such action, especially since it's against the law. However, you have PUBLICLY threatened to "blow [our] damn server to hell", and that brings up some interesting issues. Should anyone feel like it, they can report you to Comcast for violating your Terms Of Service (I'm sure there's something in their Contract/Service Agreement/whatever forbidding threats to hack people). Also, if you really DO work for Vivendi Universal in their Los Angeles office, I could show up in person (with your building's security officers, since you've previously threatened to kick my ass) during my lunch someday in the future and tell them one of their employees with a work-IP hostmask of "BA746E52.C6A409CC.3CC1367E.IP" has taken time out of work (the newest log's timestamps are PDT, so it was 2:05 PM when you rejoined) to assume multiple false identities and threaten a false lawsuit against a video game server. I'm sure they'd be thrilled to hear about it. I could also file a police report with the LAPD regarding your intent to assault me ([02:19:19] <BC_Guest> I'll kick you fucking ass bitch; subsequent comments). However, I'm not a malicious person, and I do not wish for you to lose your job or go to jail over something that can be corrected with a public apology from YOU to the administrators of Black-Cell.

If you really did serve in the Marine Corps, I apologize for assuming that you were an angsty teenager going through puberty, but you should know from your time with the Corps that you need to have respect for authority, even if you disagree with what they tell you to do. Threatening to harm someone financially by forcing them to pay repair costs on a crashed server is extremely immature, and is unbecoming of someone who wishes to be respected for serving our country. Risking your life to protect the freedoms and laws that all US citizens have does not give you the right to abuse any of them. What makes you more entitled than any other serviceman? Are you better than any others who returned from combat and those who didn't? I doubt you'd say yes, but if you would, you have problems. Most servicemen are law-abiding citizens, and I would hope you would like to count yourself among them. I salute you for risking your life to protect our way of life, freedoms, and everything else, but you need to be an honorable person to receive respect beyond that.

Comcast is a company? Gosh thanks for clearing that up I was always wondering why I could never find Comcast under connection types. Gosh, you are so smart your parents must be proud. Comcast is faster then DSL and if you need me to help you understand better then lets take a look at mbps. Comcast the "company" is 835mbps download and 384mbps upload. DSL or Verizon we will say which is also a "company" is a steady 300mbps download and a whole 150mbps upload. So, it looks like your the one in question here when it comes to intelligence Dan Anderson. Hey, tell you what Dan you might also want to email that whole company thing to Comcast too and tell them not to say that Comcast is faster then DSL.....since they use that line also.....go figure even Comcast has got it wrong. What would the world do without you in it Danny? I'm guessing it would be one dumba short a dozen.

LOL...oh boy an internet toughguy...I did not post your IP address, but simply noted that it matched the nicknames of persons that you were trying to say were not you.

This same nickname information is available to every renegade server owner just by looking at their console, or server logs, or such as BlackCell has, their bot logs everyones IP and lets you cross reference them.

You can't do anything to me, you're just pissed because I exposed your little lie. So just lay back and be Owned, or stomp your foot an hold your breath until you turn blue, I don't care either way.

{IRA}IronHorse wrote on Thu, 03 August 2006 01:03 Let me make one thing clear here. First of all you're more than welcome to stop by Vivendi any time. Do you think for one second I am stupid enough to contact you with a personal company IP address linked to me? LOL.... the computer I used is an open system so, there is no way to trace its use to any one person. Second issue here is showing up with building security over an internet argument? Imfao.... they would throw you out on your a. You started this whole deal over something stupid. I ask you to test someone for possible data hax use and you had to act like a jacka. I run game servers and have for a long time and I think I know if someone is using or not. For crying out loud I make games I know when things are just too obvious. I'm guessing this person was your friend so, you decided to act like a jacka. I really don't care and that's that. Oh and as far as the whole Comcast thing goes, I doubt they would really care but, I'm sure they would like to know your trying to get newbs to hack my system. Good luck on that though your never get through. You want to talk about me saying I'd blow your system yet, your trying to get people to hack my server you are the most ironic person I have ever known.

I don't need to trace a public IP to you; I'm certain Vivendi did a background check on you before you were hired, so it's only a matter of asking your Human Resources Department which of their employees is a former Marine who served between 1992 and 1998, and/or who had a connection to irc.black-cell.net at 2:05 PM on Wednesday, August 2. I could possibly get a legal document from the Law office I work at to facilitate this. Second, security would not throw me out on my ass for reporting a crime. This is not a mere "internet argument"; we both live in Los Angeles, so there is an imminent threat in your declaration that you would like to kick my ass. What you said may constitute a form of Verbal Assault, which is a violation of the imminent lawless action exception to the First Amendment right to free speech. Security's purpose is to prevent violence inside the building, so their presence would be REQUIRED to prevent any kind of altercation from transpiring between us. You may be right, however, in thinking they would not allow me to be in the same room as you. However, an assault conviction would not look good on your employee record or your résumé. Third, black51b has played in Black-Cell for months, and people who cheat do not stay on our server very long. Anyone who does play for months at our server and later starts to cheat will be immediately banned. I have not personally tested black51b, but some other moderator may have done so. You would have to ask one of them about that. I also do not know him personally, so there is no special treatment being given to him. Next, your profession of making games is irrelevant if you (1) were not on the Renegade development team, or (2) have not made any attempts to create/decompile/use any Renegade cheats. Regarding Comcast: I'm pretty sure they'd be interested, because if you DO carry out an attempt to crash a server using their internet service, the FBI will get involved, and I'm sure they'd like to avoid that as much as possible. Regarding your baseless accusations that I am trying to find people to hack YOUR server: first, the word your looking for is "hypocritical", and second, I have not, am not, nor will I ever be in the process of recruiting people to attack your server. That would be a pointless and illegal action. I also doubt you can produce any physical evidence (at least, nothing that isn't falsified) proving that I have a hand in any such malicious actions. If you can, I would love to know if your "witnesses" would be willing to testify under Oath to that effect. Regarding your ban:
[01:27:43] <&BCServ4> black51b destroyed hardkil (Engineer/Automatic Pistol VS. Rocket Soldier Officer/Rocket Launcher(Weak))
[01:27:47] <&BCServ4> hardkil: cheaters
[01:28:17] <&BCServ4> hardkil: black you need to be tested like now [01:28:44] <%havoc9826> !page hardkil you have no authority regarding tests in this server, please do not pretend to have any

[01:29:23] <&BCServ4> hardkil: don't pm me talking shit I say he needs to be tested

[01:29:37] <%havoc9826> !page hardkil and you are not a moderator, so your authority means nothing

[01:30:09] <&BCServ4> hardkil: don't get smart with me

[01:30:21] <&BCServ4> hardkil: I'll blow your damn server to hell

[01:30:29] <%havoc9826> !tban hardkil [01:30:21] <&BCServ4> hardkil: I'll blow your damn server to hell

[01:30:30] <&BCServ4> Host: (DragonServ): Temp. Banned: hardkil - Reason: [01:30:21]

<&BCServ4> hardkil: I'll blow your damn server to hell - By: havoc9826.

[01:30:30] <&BCServ4> hardkil was kicked from the game

[01:30:31] <&BCServ4> hardkil has left the game

I banned you for threatening our server, simple as that. If you don't like the way Black-Cell handles moderation, go back to your own servers. Have fun threatening to crash your players' computers. I'm sure they'll be thrilled.

{IRA}IronHorse wrote on Thu, 03 August 2006 10:28Blazer wrote on Thu, 03 August 2006 03:35hardkil's other Renegade aliasesBroadcasting personal information over the internet is illegal. Thank you for the violation. You be hearing from me soon. By the way sherlock everyone knew it was me so you did nothing but, hang yourself.

Internet aliases and single portions of an IP address do not amount to personal information. Personal information includes things like full name, home address, full IP address, place of business, and Social Security Number. I work in a Law office; I'm pretty sure I know what I'm talking about, and my bosses would know even more accurate information than I do. Also, an interesting point to note: if President Bush's e-Annoyance Act (or whatever it's called) passes(d?), you'd be required by law to send me said personal information. Your threats to my person and to the administrators of Black-Cell would be sufficient grounds to declare you as such.

Anyway, I'd love to stay longer tonight, but I must sleep soon, as I have to wake up in 5 hours to get ready to go to work. I'm pretty sure you do as well. I'd be happy to continue this conversation with you later today.

Okay, this is my final word because, your wasting my time. Can you say contradiction. You just stated that you nor, black-cell gives anyone special treatment. Well, check your own chat logs that you posted in the beginning of this forum. Better yet, let me sum it up for you. I got kicked off the chat as it shows in the log by CityMonster for language. You then say "I told you to +e him" "now you gotta force invite him" Mean while your friend Alyangula is using the "F" word and just spamming it down the page. You then make the statement "aly shush he'll be back." Answer this one question. Did your friend Alyangula get kicked off that chat at any point that night by you or CityMonster for the same violation? Because, I have to admit looking down that chat log I don't see it. A Language violation is a language violation no two ways about it. So, don't tell me that you nor Black-Cell Mods don't play sides for your friends. And don't try to say you didn't know black either because, you have just shown here that your a liar. You want to pull some lawyer crap let me tell you something about taking the stand. You couldn't even take the stand under oath based on the evidence here alone. I know your friend was cheating and that you allowed this to happen. Nothing you could say at this point would make any difference. FYI saying that your going to kick someone's ass isn't enough to have someone arrested either. You're not the only one that has worked in law enforcement you know.

There was no protection of Alyangula at all. Citymonster is a network service - it auto kicks for racist language. To answer your one question, no Alyangula didn't use racism = no kick. He swore, but this is allowed provided it is not derogatory. He did not violate this so called language rule. So...no, the mods didn't take sides with him.

On another note, hasn't this topic been flamed to death?

Others have already explained why you didn't get treated differently for using disallowed language, so I'll just post this:

Channel Modes:

e Ban exemption. Same format as +b, except users matching a ban exemption can walk through any bans matching them.

The server may remove ban exemptions automatically when a ban-exempt client is kicked shortly after joining through a ban.

I wanted them to +e you so that maybe you'd be exempted from the auto-kick function, which may or may not have worked based on the above description. Although, with you calling the owner of Black-Cell a homosexual and a derogatory word for "African-American" (he is neither of those, but there is nothing wrong with people who are), maybe you did deserve to be kicked from the channel until you were re-invited by him.

You have to love it when some idiot comes in, pretends to be someone else to provide his own defence, pretends to work at multiple game companies, at the same time nonetheless (to hardkil: do Vivendi and EA know you work for other game companies at the same time you work for them?), then professes to have knowledge of that law with his accusation of "posting personal information" (in which he admits openly to being hardkil).

You look like you just graduated out of diapers not that long ago. Understand this little kid...I fought for my country what have any of you done.

I respect anybody who has fought for my country, but you get no respect from me. You dare use it as leverage in an argument. Who gives a fuck if you served? It's not some badge you wear on your shoulder to make yourself feel better than others. You served your country, and we, as citizens, should tip our hats to you, but you are certainly no better than the rest of us.

My grandfather fought in WW2, but he doesn't use his service in the military as some type of statement to get people to listen to him. I never once have heard him say, "boy, I was in World War Two." Maybe you can learn a thing or two from true, respectable veterans... but then again, you're nothing but a meathead marine.

You have to love it when some idiot comes in, pretends to be someone else to provide his own defence, pretends to work at multiple game companies, at the same time nonetheless (to hardkil: do Vivendi and EA know you work for other game companies at the same time you work for them?), then professes to have knowledge of that law with his accusation of "posting personal information" (in which he admits openly to being hardkil).

Gotta love it.

Don't forget he was also a Marine and law enforcement too. Next he will probably mention that he passed the Bar exam and will be personally filing a lawsuit, during his offtime as a secret agent protecting the President, and his lab work at Area51.

Well, he could have been in the JAG Corps. That covers all those areas. His interesting idea about the law regarding "posting (his) identity" also shows why he only survived 6 years.

Since you enjoy reading our responses so much, I have no doubt that you'll read this.

What I find funny is that you claim that you're sharing a good laugh with your IT department. I want to know something. What are a bunch of educated, employed, and intelligent men/women doing reading over posts made on a gaming forum? Is your life/job really that dull that you gain entertainment from reading a gaming forum? Let alone a forum for a game that you claim is "gone".

You have proven yourself to have no higher of an IQ than the rest of us. In fact, most will agree that you've proven yourself to have a lower IQ. Of course, you're going to come back to this statement with some witty comment belittling our IQs in an attempt to exert some sort of dillusional intellectual superiority over the rest of us.

As for trying to hold onto Renegade... as long as people play the game and enjoy it, the game is not going to die. There's no real attempt to save the game, anyways. Especially since it is not in need of saving. Not to mention that attempting to save a game from oblivion is pretty much futile. If people don't like the game, it'll die on its own. If Renegade is as "gone" as you claim it is, why are there still so many dedicated players?

In short, grow the fuck up. You claim to hold a professional job, yet you get off by watching responses made by teenagers on a game community forum. I'd also expect better from someone who served 6 years in such a disciplined environment as the Marine Corps.

Anyone who's been on the internet for more than a year knows that the people who actually have jobs, love lives, social lives, etc. do not bring them up in arguments. Besides, you're the retard who told people you work for EA and that Black Cell has 24 hours to contact EA Sports or be shut down. It's been a lot more than 24 hours -- where's the cavalry?

Havoc being a server Mod should know that its gotten harder to hack servers since the new server side bots have been out. I knew this when I ran my Renegade servers using Brenbot. I got threats all the time from people but, guess what I knew better. For people that claim to be old Renegade players you surely don't know much about the programs you're using. Also, you even said it yourself, it's getting HARDER to hack servers. It's not impossible, therefore the threat is still there.

I never claimed that you have a lower IQ than all of us. I said that most here would say that you do. I never included myself, and if you thought that I implied that you have a lower IQ, then I apologize for your mistake.

Also, I'm not in any clique, and I'm certainly not defending Black-Cell.

I agree with that Rule of Thumb, but I don't really see where that applies here, especially with me.

I'm not attacking you personally. You're about the most polite person that has left a remark. I came from the old school Renegade when people played and had fun. Times have changed which is why I don't even bother running any servers for Renegade anymore. Thank you for not being rude like everyone else has been on here. These people on here have no clue what it takes to make a game and get a GMC build ready to submit. I'm under the gun all the time and when you're working on a 20 million dollar project with a deadline there's loads of stress. So, it doesn't take much to set things off. I would have no problem apologizing to Havoc if he apologized to me for coming off rude like I saw when I simply requested a player to be tested.

Well, Renegade no longer being fun and Renegade being "gone" is two different things. The game hasn't changed, but you're right, the environment has. I'm guessing that's what you mean by "gone". In that sense, then I have to agree. Though, with the right group of people, Renegade is still as fun as it was when it was first released, but in any normal, public server... that's just not the case. It's sad, but every game eventually gets polluted.

As for not being rude. I have no reason to be. While you did make a mockery out of yourself in those logs (purposely or accidentally), that doesn't give any reason to start flinging shit.

Yes, it may be hard to hack a The Planet server that's running a sophisticated bot written exclusively for Black-Cell by vloktboky/whitedragon, but any idiot with Google and the correct search terms can bring any server down with a dDoS attack, and that requires no real hacking knowledge whatsoever. Black-Cell's suffered more than a few of those over the years, mostly before I joined the community, but it's still just a temporary inconvenience.

{IRA}IronHorse wrote on Thu, 03 August 2006 18:51 Surprise, I love how you say I have a lower IQ then all of you. Is this because, I'm not in the click???? No, YOU attacked Black-Cell first when you threatened to "blow [our] damn server to hell". "Not being in the clique" has nothing to do with this; you threatened one server (on record), multiple players (on record), possibly have threatened others (records pending), and you expect US to respect YOU? Again, I hope you love the taste of your feet.

{IRA}IronHorse wrote on Thu, 03 August 2006 19:22 I'm not attacking you personally. You're about the most polite person that has left a remark. First of all, you're not the only person who has deadlines to meet. I'm sure there are other people in this community who have to deal with crunch times in their jobs. For example, my bosses have a lot of stress when they have to prepare paperwork for the courts a few days before it's due for multimillion-dollar debt collection cases because their clients were too lazy to send their evidence in a timely manner. As for not knowing exactly how hard it is to make a video game, I concede that I am not qualified to make a judgement on that, but I'm sure there are people here who can, as it is/will be their profession (e.g. vloktbody, Aircraftkiller, etc.). I would also like to know how, if you're in the middle of a crunch, you were able to be home by 5 PM to post a reply. In regards to your assertion that I have been rude to you in this thread: my original post was just one of information and evidence (the latter of which may be incriminating in nature, but that's no fault of mine since it's unedited). My replies subsequent to your own may have been denigrating and/or condescending, but you started it by replying and immediately calling me a moron in your second sentence. I will apologize for this if anyone other than you feels that I stepped out of line and said anything that wasn't matter-of-fact. In regards to me being rude to you when you "requested" that black51b be tested: you did not "request" anything - you DEMANDED it. If you are not running the server, you have no right to demand things. A civil and well-stated request to a moderator stating that you believe someone is playing unfairly is welcome, but yelling "cheater" when you get owned by a free infantry, and then going on to say
[01:28:17] <&BCServ4> hardkil: black you need to be tested like now
[01:28:44] <%havoc9826> !page hardkil you have no authority regarding tests in this server, please do not pretend to have any [01:29:23] <&BCServ4> hardkil: don't pm me talking shit I say he needs to be tested is tantamount to demanding that I perform a test, not politely requesting that I do so. Whether you're spinning the truth or lying outright, being dishonest is something that makes people respect you less, so if you want more respect, be forthright.

I like how an alias of his is "eaadmin10".

I don't think I have anything to add to this thread. Everything that needs to be said has been said, except for:

1. Although I lack any hard evidence that you haven't been in the Marine Corps or don't work for EA, I also lack evidence to the contrary, except for your word which is worth less than the bandwidth you used to give it to us. I submit that you do not work for EA, have never joined the Marines, and are no older than 20. If I were you, I'd change my story and start claiming I'm 12 really quick. At least then I have an excuse.

2. Regardless of where you work, your IQ, or what military organization you used to belong to, you sir are a dicko, and have been acting as such ever since you started posting here. Even Joe Kucan could come here acting the way you have and still be shunned for being a dumbass just like you. The thought that you would expect respect is almost stupider than the other stuff you've posted. Almost.

Again, you speak of the EA Employees you work with? Here is the problem with what you are saying:

Out of the 3 X-EA Employees, numerous articles, forum posts, ect that I have either read or talked to, they all prove one point about EA:

[1] Working over. (12 hour work days 5 days a week)

- [2] Lack of breaks during work.
- [3] Lack of sleep. (due to the 12 hour work days)
- [4] No time to mess around during work. (It had to get done!)

With that said, and other numerous things, how could you "employees at EA" possibly have the time of day during your shifts to read a gaming forum in which is inhabited by teenagers? Why would your other "EA Employees" even care? Why are you not doing your "job" instead of continually getting raped by rude comments on these forums?

You don't work at EA, everyone has already proven that. I know what the enviroment is like their. (Well, from second-hand information to say the least.) And within the confines of the "department" in which you "work", sir, I highly doubt you have the time of day to post here.

Why are a bunch of professionals getting their rocks off at the replies of teenagers on a game community forum? This doesn't seem very professional to me.

You're correct at one thing: small budget! But still Renguard 1.03, though fully written by volunteers (and thanks to some donations) has managed to keep most cheaters away for over a year.

Crimson doesn't do the coding. Didn't you read that yet? Nor is she at college as far as I know .

Just a thought, if you going to make a poor attempt at developing an anti-cheat for a game you might want to thoroughly test it and make sure it actually works. BETA TEST BETA TEST!!!

Then clearly, since you have already admitted that you are hardkil, you did make threatening statements without having the balls to even attempt to back them up. As I said before, screenshots > you.

So, hardkil, you are one of two things:

1) A self-absorbed professional programmer who likes to use the clout of the name of his position to push around smaller server owners and programmers and threatens their hard work when his way isn't followed. Essentially, an Internet bully which is really the most pathetic kind because they can only use their words (almost always dubious) and have no physical attributes to use to intimidate others, OR

2) A cocky little teenage (or less) liar who, when confronted with damning evidence, continues to dig him/herself a hole and can only defend himself with more of the same BS that got him ridiculed and banned in the first place. This is much more likely since a programmer with any kind of job security whatsoever would not take so much time and effort out of his job with a huge gaming conglomerate to belittle users of an internet forum whom he has never met before and whom he knows nothing about.

Either way, you lose. My suggestion would be to leave while you still lack the urge to shoot yourself at the realization that you're wasting your life and, more importantly, our time.

Quote:Don't just relay on patches without testing but, then again small time wannabe programmer with an even smaller budget.

You don't seem to have finished your closing statement. Will you double post again or are you content with the brilliance of your previous statement?

If you're all just sixteen year olds then stop acting like you're grown up. Not everyone in here is a teenager and I'm sick of hearing this excuse too. You think because, you're a teenager it gives you an excuse to act like a fucking idiot. Your parents have no control over you and you think this is how the world is. Well, its not. I'm not going to put up with your stupid shit. You kids think you know everything about anything. The fact is you know nothing which is why your still in school and probably failing at that too. It's none of your business which gaming company I work for they pay me not you. You're not my dependants so, therefore it's not your concern.

Sorry, I'm not in college, never was. I didn't code RenGuard, either. And I'm sorry that less than 1% of the people who download RenGuard can't wrap their tiny brains around installing it.

I will concede that you're older than 16 years old, but the rest is still a lie. Your bad temper tells your age to be under 25.

I'll throw you a hint though....I use PS2 and PS3 Dev kits. Not that I expect you to know what these are but, they are used for script writing. Much different than your Renegade tools with GMax.

You are a complete fucking lying bastard Sir, and I put it to you again to prove your shit which you wont and cant, typical that huh, you been caught in your web of lies and is now crying like a child cause of it.

Again, if you work for some game company, tell us what games you have worked on and we will look up the credits.

And am no kid, which yet again proves how fucking stupid you are, I wouldnt be suspised to find out that am infact older then you.

I feel the need to question you on your so called "marine" past, but you would only look up the answers cause your a penis pump using nerd.

As always, I pray for the day that someone inverts a programe to allow the user to stab someone in the face though the screen, it would come in very handy right now to use upon you.

Burn in hell heretic.

Edit.

You know, people like you, really do deserve to fucking die, you should had been shot at birth, stupid people like you really do offend everything human, you are a disgrace to our race and you should do the honourable thing and put a 9mm to your head and pull the trigger, I asume you would fail at that as you do at life, by leaving the safty catch on. :/

If you ever visit the UK, which I hope you dont, you can keep your lying self over there, but if you ever do, I be so happy to edit your face and remove the stain on the human race that is called hardkill.

How about you show us what work YOU, as a self-proclaimed game coder, have done, instead of attempting to impress/belittle us with TEH AWSOM TEXT OF TEH INTARWEBZ, which is, by the way, failing.

You call us retarded for replying to your responses. You may take text here on the internet seriously, but we don't. Hell, if an important, intelligent ex-Marine coder like yourself has such important work to do, why are you bothering to respond? Just to amuse yourself and your colleagues? Wouldn't that be wasting valuable working time, therefore making you a bad employee?

Once again, you can either put up, or shut up. But of course, you will go "ROFFEL MAI WURK IZ TEH SECRATZ ADN UR NOT WURTHEE 2 SEEE LOL TYPE TYPE TPYE". Each of the people you have gone against has their credentials listing what they have done, and I'm sure they will show them to you just to shut you up. But until YOU show YOURS, you have nothing to base your arguments on.

You can call us nerds, geeks, losers with no lives, and so on. But what makes us smile about this thread is the fact of knowing that we don't have to pretend to be something else, while you have weaved this web of intricate lies, all to save face in front of some people you will NEVER meet in life.

So, tell me again, who's the one with no life?

Afcourse, you may continue your "hate crusade", but without proving that you are really what you say you are, your words will be like dust in the wind ().

Interesting, please back your claims by doing a search in the forum and providing us with links.

Also, i thought you were here for amusement, not to act like a Jesus Christ. And speaking of Jesus, if you have been keeping track of the C&C Community (and i am sure you haven't, thus conflicting with your claims that we "fuk-nuts have talked to much shit on people") you would know that we don't tolerate messiahistic figures telling us how to live our lives.

Also, learn to spell.

In gaming, cheating is a crime. If you cheat, you get a life sentence (spelling?) of not playing on your fave server or even game.

If you were really running Multi-Player Servers for the major online games, you should know that the best.

Also, your tracking software won't work on some ip's.
For an example, you can track me back to my country and my ISP. BUT my ISP runs a "private policy" so to say. The agreement we signed allows them to give my private information ONLY to officials in MY GOVERNMENT if i am accused of crime, according to my country laws.

My country's laws don't list Ddos attacks as a crime.

I don't have an official document to back my claims, since it's in a language that you won't understand.

I can only confirm that i have checked such possibilities with my attorney.

Out of all of the countries in the world, a small country such as mine runs such a policy, you can imagine how many run it as well.

Anybody who supports and/or orchestrates a DDoS attack is a moron. Script kiddiots are nothing but egotistical children wanting to get their rocks off by attempting to piss off others. Honestly, I don't give a rat's ass anymore. Kiddiots are free to DDoS my personal connection and my server all they want. It's just entertaining to watch as they get some sort of high from the illusion of themselves being superior to those that they attack. Truth is, anybody can kick another guy in the balls and take him down to his knees. It doesn't make you special.

There is nothing you can do to make me stop posting those images. Sending me personal messages won't help either.

If it is SOOO much problem for you, there is allways this little button caled ignore button.

I hardly ever post those images anyway. No one says you have to look at them. Is it so hard to not look at them?

Do you "work for" EA, or for Vivendi? You told me you work at Vivendi in LA, and you said [02:04:22] <BC_Guest> what is EALA || [02:04:32] <BC_Guest> EA is not in LA --- where do you actually "work"? Since you first alleged that you "work" at Vivendi, I'll go along with that little ruse. However, unlike you, I can prove where I work, and here's how:

DISCLAIMER: The following documents were prepared with false information, for entertainment purposes only, and are not valid for submission to any Court of Law. The creator of the documents assumes no liability for any person who attempts to file the documents with the Court in either his or her own name or in the name of the creator of the documents.

You just got served (legally).

P.S.

Minimum wage is $6.75 an hour in California. Regardless, I doubt anyone who has a wage of $50/hour would keep his job for very long if his employers found out he was taking time out of work during a crunch period to make posts on a forum.

Hardkil, even if you really work at VU/EA/anywhere, or if you're going through puberty, you need to grow up.

I don't know about that. I think he just figured to take a page out of Aircraftkiller's book and try his hand at getting a rise out of everybody by making senseless posts in all caps. To deny the effectiveness of that tactic would be foolish. It's sad to see how much response he got out of doing that. You'd think most people here would be able to just realize what he's doing and just ignore the subject.

I don't know about that. I think he just figured to take a page out of Aircraftkiller's book and try his hand at getting a rise out of everybody by making senseless posts in all caps. To deny the effectiveness of that tactic would be foolish. It's sad to see how much response he got out of doing that. You'd think most people here would be able to just realize what he's doing and just ignore the subject.

I have played with havoc in the past and despite his recent events on the noobstories website I find this the most credible and interesting thing. Yes there is an EALA, now then.

IF I READ THIS CORRECTLY

In the chat log you said you worked for Valve, EA, something else with a V i cant remember, Served in the military. What I've heard is The People at EA pull 12 hour shifts. that would give you 12 hours to, drive halfway across the US to get to your other offices, sleep, play ren, write programs, Go to different buildings and peoples houses with wireless internet to use there IPS, and threaten people on IRC. Did I miss anything?

Also Fear has nothing to do with EA.

XVII owns Ren servers now EA gave them control thus EA has no control.

There was no breach in contract. As Havoc said "Experience may change during online play.

and unless you work for Microsoft too, you dont work for the biggest gaming company in the world.

Microsoft had two game consoles = Two whole consoles where they get to slap their names on the games and say they own them + the Mechwarrior, Halo, Age of Empire, Mechcommander, age of mythology, plus any other series of computer games. EA= sports games and a few PC games whom they bought out.

At any rate you would have died by now in exhaustion from the 25/7 hour a day working. At any point Havoc is more afraid of California breaking off then he is of you taking his IP.

Ok I got served, lets see now Youve racked up a 12 hour shift at EA, drive halfway accross the U.S. to VIVENDI UNIVERSAL, Half way accross the U.S. to Valve, and now aparently Halfway accross to U.S. to Sony. Are we talking Hovercar or imagination power here? Not only that but apparently you have the time during the day to post on the forum and watch it over and over

You appear to have forgotten where your caps lock button is. I will remedy this for you now. ON most keyboards its on the left side above the Left shift key and under the tab key. Microsoft did invinte the AOE series.

Sorry, I had to stop paying attention to this thread to take a shower and run my weekly poker game. I came in second -- won $40 instead of $240. We had 22 people this week which I think is a new record.

Anyway, I think it's about time to ban this guy. He's just turned into a boring spammer who ran out of 75 IQ arguments and went on to the 27 IQ point arguments several pages ago. He got owned completely before he even joined, then he made it worse. Fun, fun.

It's not that big of a problem. We'll go hang with Hawai'i. Alaska can come, too. THE AYND.

Wooo party in Hawaii!! btw, am I stupider for having read this?!

WHEN THE FUCK DID THIS THREAD GET SO BIG?!

I'm not going to read it all. I'll assume Hardkil made an ass out of himself, and everyone else laughed about it.

Hardkil, this thread was about you getting banned, and face it, you're not getting unbanned. Leave. Go away. You have no further business here, unless you want to entertain us further. I say again, GO AWAY. LEAVE. YOU HAVE NO FURTHER BUSINESS HERE. DEMON BE GONE. ANNOYING BEAST OF BURDEN MAKE HASTE AND TRAVEL AWAY FROM THIS PLACE.

Ok?

Edit: Oh, hes gone. Nevermind.

Edit: All right, a Queen reference! I think it's met all the criteria for a Hall Of Fame thread, anyone else think so?

For the record, I banned him. He did say he would leave if kicked out, so let's hope for once he did tell the truth.

This thread should make the HoF for two reasons.

1: Biggest dumbass in the world he hadn't realised us changing the topic on him so it was saying RE HARDKIL IS A FUCKING MORON, every time he quoted us.

2: We had the longest quote chain going! 9+ quotes quoting each other.

One of the most funniest things about it was, he was quoting himself and writing shit about it. Hahahahaha that made me laugh!

1: That was fun. How did he not catch us doing that? Every quote he made of us, he pwned himself.

2: I wanted to contribute, but I think there was a rule against quote chains. Sorry.

No, it wasn't. We've had so many quotes with phpBB that it ended up looking like a wine glass. We've had a couple pages of basically nothing but quoting.

Do it. The thread has been milked enough. Let it rest in peace to provide amusement for others forever.
