Recently, I got this whole bunch of popups on my Internet Explorer and Firefox. I used AVG to remove all the trojans and then used Ad-aware to remove any spyware but these keep appearing. I need help on removing these spyware:
ErrorProtector
DataDoctor (or something like that)
ErrorSafe

and some others which I forgot.

Thanks.

Try Spybot- search and destroy.

This little program solves most of my problems. Maybe yours as well www.spybot.info is the link to it and it is very good indeed. If this doesn't work, then just use google, it's your best friend! Search for 'remove errorprotector' and you'll find a lot of useful sites.

Always remember to do virus and spyware scans in windows safe mode.

You know, Google really is your best friend.

The popups don't actually appear on Firefox, most of them open up Internet Explorer to the website and even after I use Spybot on safe mode together with AVG, they still appear.
Thanks for the suggestions.
