Yes, that's right. This explains it all:

If the topic or images are removed, I will upload them somewhere (saved them, of course).

You might've seen him play on the n00bstories server.

That's all for today.

Yes, because the purpose of this thread is to show people that there are wallhacks for Renegade.
It couldn't possibly be to show a n00b self-owning himself.

That sounds very poetic.

Quote:Dearest n00bstories staff team,

This letter is addressed to the related users of the case of me using RGH, the n00bstories staff team and to the close online friends.

I would like to take this opportunity and extend my apologies to the staff of n00bstories and to the server owner, Crimson. Most importantly, to the community for the use of *cheat name removed*on the server, n00bstories AOW/CMM 1. I would also like to apologize for the disappointment if any of you had for me.

I am not a malicious person. Some of the few long-term players like Amber, [BA]Achiles, babyfire4 (both the account owner and his girlfriend, though I hardly see them recently) and some others, know me better than the other regulars. I have to say it's sad to reveal that I have been using *cheat name removed*1.3.3 for the last week or two. I am utterly disappointed with myself as some of them speak up for me some time ago when someone suspected me of using a third-party program to ease my gaming experience in advantage off the rest of the players. That period of time, I can assure you that I did not use RGH. I know right now at this period of time the trust between everyone and me is almost zero. To make you guys believe me that I did not use *cheat name removed*in my entire life in Renegade is almost unbelievable or the most-unlikely situation. All I can do is to tell you guys the truth, that is I did not until the last fortnight.

I have played Renegade about half a year after they came out. And I admit that I was a game exploiter. (I used to hack MapleStory, and I did go relatively further than short in that line. For what reason; to explain, would be tough for you to believe. Simply put it that I'm always interested in the internals of how things work. Some may view a computer just a computer. But I tend to think if we use programming languages to build programs. Like C++ or VisualBasic, then what are the programs that build the builder? Questions like what's the very first computer still lies unknown to me. I don't mean to stray away from the topic but these are some illustrations to help you understand my situation. Also, Crimson and some other moderators would have noticed me being actively interested in how Sir Kane throws that much timed-c4 on his buggy/humvee in such a short period of time. Which I feel that I have done too much research online to expose myself using RGH) I have searched for a third-party program to help me perform better than the average. But to no avail then.

Until recently when I saw a screenshot somewhere that has the name "RGH 1.3.3". I couldn't believe how easy it was to access the download and attain it. So I spent some time playing around and then it became a bad habit. I'm all to blame to even start with it.

I have found n00bstories a place for me some time around last year in 2006. A place where I feel comfortable no matter the circumstances. That is why I've always stayed with n00bstories and be active as when I have the extra time apart from my work. (I work as a public relations officer for a hotel doing my internship.) There is no way I could express how I feel in this server since the day I join till now. So much fun times, so much laughters, so much awesome rushes, so much experience together. And apparently I screwed it up myself.

I'd also like the readers to understand these following reasons as to why I started using *cheat name removed*in the past two weeks or so.

First, I started to feel that I have not improved to the extend of the elite players who can snipe like a heat-seeking bullet. And to the extend that makes me feel like they are using third-party programs. I feel so taken advantage but do not misunderstand, I trust that good players are always good players. And that if they were cheating, the staff here at n00bstories would have done a awesome job than ever to apprehend the suspect.

My bad on playing mind-games with myself.

Second, I rarely come online to play as most have noticed, that even being an ATM would be impossible at the period of time. (I do get ATMs and I am thankful for the trust placed in my hands. I do not intend in any time playing in this server to play out your trust. Not in the past year, not in the past months, never have I. I could hardly fork out time for myself to play on the server as I have been busy with events after events, upcoming examinations about a month ago, assignments and lots of new projects.

My bad on putting real-life stress into this server in particular and relieving it by cheating.

Third, in relevance to a certain extend to 'not playing your trust' in the above reason. I honestly had the intention of advancing my knowledge of cheaters. One of the way, also one of the worst, is by using the hack and experiencing the aspects of it. Recently I have caught a guy using *cheat name removed*and he was banned by one of the moderators in which I do not have the mind to recall. I could say that he was using it largely to his advantage. Nevertheless, large or small, it is still cheating. Like I am.

My bad on using the wrong way to learn the aspects of cheats (as all I do with the ATM powers when I have them is qkicking the GTA-ers and afk-ers. I wanted to do more for the server. My bad for trying too hard to prove to Crimson or andr3w282 that I am worth your trust. Apparently, once again; I've screwed it up myself.

I would just like to say that I have enjoyed my time in n00bstories and it will end right here if the ban is a permanent one. Please do not misunderstand. I do not mean to say that if you don't lift the ban or lower the punishment to a timed-ban you will loose a guy like me. I mean to say that if it's a timed-ban, then I will most probably come back to play after the ban, this time strictly without *cheat name removed*with guarantee from my heart. I don't want to make this letter sound like I'm begging for my ban to be lifted so if it sound like that, please note.

I felt so much for the server, honestly, that if the team lives near Singapore, I would make a trip down to them and party like how the recent party was held.

You have done a great job in maintaining the server. It is in my deepest regrets to have this occur. But for one to prove his intentions are hard. Self-serving attributes of a human will make one think of myself as someone who is trying hard to redeem myself from my mistake. But I am not. My intention of this letter is to apologize, and to keep the regulars and staffs updated on what's in my mind. That is all. Whether or not this event of me using *cheat name removed*or this letter changes your perception of what kind of person I am, I can not control. But at least I make an effort to inform of my intentions and reasons, not explanations to redeem myself away from the label,"cheater"

To end off, you can take this as a letter directed specifically to the regulars or n00bstories staff which ever to your preference. Have a great day!

Sincerely,
Jay

He seems sincere. It was quite the long apology. I'm not sure why someone would put such time and effort into an apology if for not to be truly sincere in his apology. Most cheaters as for forgiveness, but then start flaming everybody when they refuse to forgive them for their cheating. Jay seems a little different. His message to Alex, however, makes me question his sincerity.

Alex wrote on Thu, 26 July 2007 00:23How stupid can you get?!
Well ehm, to an extend where someone is busy in his real life, everything is fine with his real life friends, real great people who understands and respects me. (Like what I said, nothing I say can make the public believe me right at this point in time. I don't blame you guys. It's part of understanding psychological matters within the public.) But in his online games, feels that many others could do insane things like Sir Kane and his flaming buggy/humvee. Or snipe like an RGH-er. Or take you down in split seconds with a chain gun when I, few years experienced player, knows how to dodge. That's pretty much fucked up when you try for more than a year to train yourself, not only in the day but in the middle of the night (If you noticed, I play during your nights or late afternoons. That's my early mornings.) but end up still getting trashed by some new guy whom I never seen before in the server in my whole entire life playing in n00bstories. And last but not least being ignored by people. I have to agree that one could have not seen the chat entry come up in regards to him. But what are the chances that 98% of the time one wouldn't see?

Still, I thank the players like [BA]Achiles, Amber, babyfire4 (in the earlier days), and a couple more that treat me like a normal person by replying me no matter how long after I PM them. (They reply me after the game if they have no time to reply)

Indeed in the period when I was attempting to cheat online. I used BH, one of the dumbest cheat. That got me banned from Jelly. I would have to say that was what brought me to n00bstories and since then there was no cheating. Then again to what extend would you guys believe me? One would just enter this thread and go,"Woh! Pwnthxbai!", "Ha-Ha! Fucking dumb.", and all the assumptions of one, me that is, when you don't know me. Speculations, are inevitable, then please make it sound like one, instead of a statement.

Tunaman wrote on Thu, 26 July 2007 01:44And you dont even need a macro to throw c4 that fast or without facing the pt hahaha.

Well apparently Tunaman you have no experienced or understood the game enough. Either that or I've spent the whole of my entire span in playing Renegade doing nothing. Indeed you could throw timed-c4 one after another in attempt to create a flaming humvee/buggy. But how potent can it be? Boom, ... boom, ... boom, ...? Or Boomboomboomboomboom? There is absolutely no possibility for one human to be able to throw like how I was researching on. Sir Kane's technique is definitely a macro.

WNxBoMbZU wrote on Thu, 26 July 2007 06:21Sad.. It was a nice guy trooprm02 wrote on Thu, 26 July 2007 10:26wow, great story. I wonder how old he is? He believed you that you used a "macro" to buy stuff not facing the PT, yet talks like hes 40 on that forum. But the cheating SS's, just....and he was a mod in n00bstories?
I would say up till this day, Bomzu is one the handful who I feel do not use a third-party program to increase the ease of gaming Renegade. I appreciate the times I enjoyed the fast paced rushes and assistance in-game. Thank you. It has been awesome.

Up to this stage, you are the only person who have felt something like how you felt. It really saddens me to have spent so much time, genuinely playing without a third-party program and get banned with absolutely no mercy on the hostility as soon as I am discovered for using a third-party program which I apparently used for a fortnight or so.

Yes, I was a temp-mod in the server. Andr3w have placed his trust in me, I am thankful for the chance. Thus I'm not going to ask for a chance to be unbanned since I feel the whole community in here, and in n00bstories are against cheaters as though they did something to harm the server in a way that needs days of fixing and down-time.

I'm 17 years old, Jay. Nice to meet you. I have been on forums as moderators, administrators, and served as event holders for private mmorpg servers. I'm sorry if I portrayed a wrong image of my age on whichever forum you're reffering to; as what I understand from your post. As for the macro, you have to trust me, or live in peace with you own and run away from the fact. (Read above)

The HON walls was a real glitch. There was no wall hack or so.

jamiejrg wrote on Thu, 26 July 2007 12:21Seriously tho, what are the chances of him posting a screeny of him cheating, and sir kane is in it. I find that quite funny Sad to say, I was too engrossed in getting the answer to Sir Kane's technique. Too engrossed in feeding and releasing my query to geekstogo. He was taunting, ignoring and being a unreasonably mean person. Never thought a person like Sir Kane would survive in the community being such a mean person to people who are interested in understanding facts(Unlike the download-unzip-run-hack type of leecher). Now one possible reply to this statement would be,"Never thought a person like puffaway could even be a temp mod in the server but ends up he cheats." Well for two weeks that is. Nevertheless it's still cheating.

Apparently when I logged on to the server in-game today. I didn't have my *cheat name removed*on. Just so happened the next time I try to connect I got banned. Then again, what are the chances one would give to me when the evidence is rock hard out here?

cheesesoda, I would like make another stretch to thank you for making an analyzed comment there. Pretty much appreciate it. Not because you're helping me, but because you dare to stand out from the mass and make a statement everyone's not making.

It was great pleasure meeting and getting to know and understand you guys at n00bstories. Unfortunately I am feeling that no one took the effort to get to know me and understand me.

Puffaway, what Sir_Kane was doing WAS NOT a macro. It's one of the several PT bugs in the game. I can't remember exactly how it is done but from the top of my head: Face the PT at an upward angle. Press and hold V. Press X to rotate 180 degrees. Press E to enter the PT and 5 to refill. Click primary fire. Repeat from "Press E".

Get some knowledge.

Well apparently Tunaman you have no experienced or understood the game enough. Either that or I've spent the whole of my entire span in playing Renegade doing nothing. Indeed you could throw timed-c4 one after another in attempt to create a flaming humvee/buggy. But how potent can it be? Boom, ... boom, ... boom, ...? Or Boomboomboomboomboom? There is absolutely no possibility for one human to be able to throw like how I was researching on. Sir Kane's technique is definitely a macro.

It's easy, you cheated, therefore you should be treated like the rest of the cheaters. RG Banned (For using RGH) and your IP publically posted so all the servers can get rid of you.

Theres no excuse for cheating. No if's no but's.

You want to understand how certain cheats work? Fire up a PRIVATE game and test for yourself.

Click primary fire. Repeat from "Press E".

Get some knowledge.
I've never been able to do it as well as some people can, but here's an example of what The Merovingian is talking about (without pressing X, since I couldn't make that work properly): video

You see, you're just taking it without attempting to understand the depth of what I said.

I said I got to know and understand my online friends/acquaintance. But they do not, in on relevance to cheating or not. Cheating is cheating. Thing is, there are reasons as to why one would cheat. That, is what I'm talking about. That is what I was looking forward do having you guys understand.

My reason is in my letter. The very first one.

Bluethen, that is very simple. Simply "E">"5">"ESC">L.Click and loop. The purchase terminal is already right in front of you and you can simple throw it on the floor without turning away from the PT. That isn't a macro.

As I said, excuses.

1. You wanted to improve your abilities.

2. You had less time to actually play.

3. You did it to gain a knowledge of how the cheats function to catch them better.

Off all the three, the third one would be OK, but for one thing:

YOU DID IT IN A PUBLIC SERVER. No one really cares if you use cheats in a private, passworded server or offline (ie. Practice mode). Your mistake was using it in a game against other humans without their knowledge. THAT is no excuse.

I felt sad for this happening. I felt regretful for this happening. Whether or not it's fucking regret cheating or regret getting caught ok? I'm just feeling regretful. Resentful. Two weeks of cheating without guilt. I wouldn't be a human if that doesn't happen. Even the most malicious guy on the planet would feel the tinge of guilt. Whether he expresses it out is another.

Ah, I see then, you must be a spy living in the next apartment next to me seeing if I feel guilty or not by reading my mind?

Hi, you're the ignorant one, not me. Why don't you try to remember that before you go spouting out bullshit that you have no idea about. You can throw c4 like that without a macro. Walk up to the outside of the weapons, face the pt, and then turn around. Then, while holding down V, you can just do e,5,click,e,5,click. The only thing limiting how fast you can do this is your computer speed imo.

I too am disappointed in myself.

But I have to say one thing. I have always kept a place where I don't hack. You can see me banned from serveral Jelly servers. You can see me banned from a couple of other servers. I am not going to deny. But neither of the two servers from n00bstories was I even suspected once for cheating.

Only until one case when my renguard went down and wasn't able to startup. Then andr3w started to suspect me. But even then I haven't started using 1.3.3.

Or take you down in split seconds with a chain gun when I, few years experienced player, knows how to dodge. That's pretty much fucked up when you try for more than a year to train yourself, not only in the day but in the middle of the night (If you noticed, I play during your nights or late afternoons. That's my early mornings.) but end up still getting trashed by some new guy whom I never seen before in the server in my whole entire life playing in n00bstories.

HAHAHAHA, just because you suck at a game doesn't mean everyone else is cheating you retard, I've been playing this game for 5 years and I still can't compete with the top clan players - if you play on a 40 player server for your whole renelife then you will never get good.

Quote:I've spent the whole of my entire span in playing Renegade doing nothing.

It would appear so then, renelife over - perhaps time to go find a new game to cheat at!

Quote:It really saddens me to have spent so much time, genuinely playing without a third-party program and get banned with absolutely no mercy on the hostility as soon as I am discovered for using a third-party program which I apparently used for a fortnight or so.

When you "live" in a virtual world and people only know the virtual "you" then cheating is pretty much the worst thing you can possibly do - why the hell should we care how much your life is destroyed over a video game or how sorry you are, most players just want pricks like you banned so they don't have their game ruined.

I did not say it was an accident. Which sentence tells you that I said it was an accident for using a third-party program. Cheating on accident is almost not possible. For you to say that I don't know what would be the possibilities.

Well I asked Crimson in-game before. She said as long as you're next to the PT it is allowed. Also, I stated this in my post at geekstogo. (I'm starting to think that not everyone read the whole of all my posts. Either cos its too long and they're too lazy to read.)

I had been hacking since I was playnig MapleSEA. But hey, after that game I stopped until the fortnight event. I'm not trying to focus and say that the fortnight is a light offense. (This sentence is just so someone wants to come and make my life miserable.)

Realised how hacking/cheating or using a third-party program to aid your gaming experience can destroy your game. Reputation, trust, respect. Which are all hard to earn. I have to say that I have lost them, and they're all gone now. There is nothing I say here on the forums that you guys can trust at ease. For example,'I've made the turn on cheats, and it will never step foot into my desktop even by a byte.' Would anyone trust that? Would anyone give me the chance? Did anyone thought that,"hey at least this guy is admitting his mistake and not denying it."

I just hate to see how the people here all suddenly turn to me like I'm a terrorist. Yeah, like someone went mad, kill his girlfriend. Goes to jail then comes out and have everyone look at him like a fucked-piece of human. Like as though they have no way of repentance. Like once you enter into the darkness there's no way to come out.

No one loves cheaters even the cheaters themselves. You don't have to state them Viking.

Oh and about the kicking the balls part. If you really love to do so, come to Singapore. We can meet up. And we'll see if you can kick my balls so hard till I can taste it.

Stick your worthless apology up your arse for all the shit that it is truly worth.

Cheating is cheating, and it is players like you that fuck up MY game. I am always the tank user and then blown to fuck because of a glitch in the game with multiple C4. OK I can handle that BUT when you want macros to cheat!! Well that pisses me off even more. I will guarantee that you WILL be using other cheats that you have not yet been caught with especially as you are using RGH.

Do not try to clear any guilt, just get the fuck out of the public servers where I play. I make no bones when I tell you that your name is now mud and will be passed around as such.

Did you treat us nice with your cheating? NO!! Do unto others.....NOW FUCK OFF.

I have to agree with this sentance,"Do unto others". And I will make my leave. Don't worry.

nopol10 wrote on Sat, 28 July 2007 17:12Quote:I felt so much for the server, honestly, that if the team lives near Singapore, I would make a trip down to them and party like how the recent party was held.

Ahem. Location: Bishan. Ahem. I'm coming to get you.

By the way, why doesn't my country flag show? Or is it just to me?
I too can't see your location. Perhaps you live in Singapore too? Well where do you want to meet?

Well MexPirate, apparently my judgement is wrong then. I was giving my thoughts on when people could do almost as well as using an RGH. Not just relatively well. I mean really well.

The end.

I didn't really see him cheat but he seems to understand now that getting banned by cheating is no difference than cheating MapleSEA and whatnot. (I know that game as well)

Maybe he can start fresh, forget about the bad times and look forward seeing how he reacts to one another.

He can always be banned for month's, and once again, able to play.
(Though your hacks "must" be deleted at all cost!)

Maybe, maybe not, what you guys think?

Right, anyways. Since you seem to think I'm going to cheat again, I'll ignore your comment.
And I didn't challenge anyone to a 1 Vs. 1, I had a PM the other day asking for a 1 Vs. 1. I had to tell him I couldn't as I dont have a disc anymore.
So this was just to clarify that I was going to be back in game.
I don't turn down 1 vs. 1's. I know I suck at them. I never turned you down once, I let you kick my ass 5 games in a row, just because to be honest, you were my first EVER 1 vs 1.

Bet you didn't know that?
I've stated many times I suck at 1 Vs. 1's but you can only get better at it by continually playing, and watching what your doing.

Furry muff, if you look back you quoted spoony who was talking about Tuna - hence the confusion.

For what it matters you are actually one of the only cheaters that I actually believe will never cheat again and I'm aware that you aren't scared of losing a game.

A comment that explains what I meant in all of my replies exactly. Thank you for making your opinions visible to everyone, I'd say it takes some guts to do that looking at everyone's replies.

The reason why you don't see me cheat is because most of the time I do not use it. I just had the experience of in different situations to see how someone reacts when he actually see an sbh run into the base. And how he actually fake scans the place to get hold. Or some even just towards him like a magnet and shoot him with a snipe rifle. Without the 1.3.3, I wouldn't have been able to see the sbh come in and analyse. Without the populated server, in a private server fired up by myself wouldn't be able to picture this.

Yes MexPirate. That is accurate.

A lot of things have been going on in my mind since about a day and a half to two days since this happened to me. Well... (next paragraph)

I have been making long replies that almost explains what is going through in my mind in detail. I should try expressing myself now simply. So to sum things up and not be draggy, the bottom line is I've learnt.

In Singapore so to speak, committing a suicide is against the law. And anyone caught helping or assisting in the suicide will be brought in to be interrogated and soon found guilty in most cases.

They will read through my desktop inside-out since I'm here most of the time and I do not have a diary. And when they find all those screenshots and logs in all forms about you calling me to die and many others in favor of aiding in my suicide.

You sir, have just lost any respect I had for you. That is one of the most horrid things I have read in awhile.

Back to topic; puff could you stfu with your bs life storys and just leave. Its quite obvious you're not welcome here.

Okay, this is getting ridiculous. Last time I read this thread, it was 2 fucking pages long, and now it's 5?! Surely, this doesn't receive the attention that it's getting.

Truthfully, cheaters are coming up with every excuse in the book. They often add to their stories quite often, too. It's annoying as fuck. I say we just bound their hands and feet together and throw them in the river. If they drown, they were guilty. If they can swim, they're innocent, and then to be charged with cheating and burnt at the stake.

I say forgiveness is for the weak.

you cheated till you got caught, now you say sorry i didnt mean it and i am embarassed and all that. well its too late. the community here doesnt forgive. they just forget for the most part. so why not just leave... and come back in a few months then most wont remember.

or mayb just not come back at all. this community isnt much but if its numbers only grow by joining of cheater its not worth for it to exist as a whole

Haha, wow viking really sucks.

Puffaway is pretty stupid too, all I really read was the article Sir Kane linked to before I started laughing.
