Or at least make your signature harder to photoshop over, or Scrin will end up posting them under his name on planetcnc as well.
Aside from that, those wallpapers look very nice

I'm talking about this and this. I don't know how you could possibly have forgotten something so recent.

Do you also have the wallpapers a little big bigger, maybe in 1680 x 1050 resolution ?

Stop playing stupid. I saw you looking at that thread here the day after it was started, and then you went and posted some lame-ass explanation (which was actually a lie, because you didn't MAKE any of the image except for your signature icon, but rather tried to DELETE parts of it, and AoBfrost never gave you permission to edit his picture) over at the screenshot page at PCNC. Don't claim it wasn't you, or you'll force me to discredit you with even more pictures than AoBfrost made.

Anyway, somewhat back on topic... DeathLink6.0, you should do what AoBfrost did and sneak an extra signature into your images somewhere that they won't be easily seen at normal zoom, since your current signature could be edited over even with Paint. As it stands now, you have someone who has already stolen another person's artwork and published it as his own expressing his interest in your art as well, so be careful.

Yea maybe. Rendering that with that area-lights, AA, bump and so on take its time, bit more than a half hour for 1280x1024. I think I will render 1920xdunno something like that. Better bigger than smaller. When I have another Computer here.
