Your supposed to rename the original 1.037 scripts.dll to scripts2.dll before installing the updated scripts.dll.

Well if you're done murdering the English language, you're probably going to have to reinstall Renegade. See if you have a crashdump text file in your Renegade directory, and if you do, upload it here. Crashdumps will only appear if scripts.dll is correctly installed, though.

are you trying to do this while renegade is running??

cause you say it messeged you saying"renegade has stopped working"

---

shut down renegade and name the scripts.dll that is 1.99mb to scripts2.dll and put the custom scripts.dll in there.

1.99mb = scripts2.dll
new ones = scripts.dll
