Some people who do weed do it for the effect it has, they regulate their dose, and make sure they're not being irritating to the general public whilst doing it. Others do it to look cool.

On topic, he holds the time record for "time between first post and being added to my ignore list"

It isn't illegal.... The weed at least...

Anyway, I don't like it, tried it once, no to very small unoticable effect. Also, if you want weed banned, then you surely must ban smoking and alcohol too... They are at least as bad as weed.

If you want a fight in real life because someone said you're dense over a computer game forum, there's really no words to sum up how crap your life is.

I know you probably think you come across as some kind of tough guy, but you don't. You come across as a lonely scrub who gets beaten up at school every day and takes out the anger in front of people who don't know you personally and haven't seen you for the wretched little pleb you are.

Me bringing in the pointsfix in an attempt to help the game and the community, is somehow on a par with you flipping out on a daily basis, getting SO ANGRY in front of your computer screen that you want a fight in real life?

Do you have any idea how ridiculous you sound?

It was sad enough that you were begging me every single day to unban you from CW out of a lack of having any other non-internet hobbies. It's even sadder to see you still checked Smak every day and burst into tears when someone like SS said anything bad, yet true, about you. But right now, the fact you're shaking with anger SO MUCH because I said you've got a low IQ (and I'm sorry to burst your bubble, but you almost certainly do) that you seriously, seriously want a fight in real life?

Good lord... go outside, get some fresh air, because there's much more to life than sitting alone in a dark room with the curtains drawn getting angry in front of your computer screen.

Good lord... go outside, get some fresh air, because there's much more to life than sitting alone in a dark room with the curtains drawn getting angry in front of your computer screen. I'll just repeat this bit, partly because it's obviously true and partly because it's funny watching how angry it's making you... again.

Everyone at Smak knows it's true, everyone knows you seem to be in a permanent state of anger in front of your computer screen, half the community has been witness to one of your renerages... talking about how you'll kick someone's ass in real life because you snapped at the fact they called you a geek (little tip: when an internet insult bothers you that much, you're proving for them that you are, indeed, a geek)

Take my advice: "go outside, get some fresh air, because there's much more to life than sitting alone in a dark room with the curtains drawn getting angry in front of your computer screen." because the angrier you're getting right now, the more you're proving my point about what a sad, lonely little pleb you are.

BartGg wrote on Fri, 26 October 2007 06:48lonley? dno about your friday night spoony im goin to get wrekd? how about you..

I go out either playing pool or clubbing most Fridays. The difference between me and you is I'm not so pathetically insecure as you are that I'm desperate for people on the other side of the internet to think I have a life, so I don't feel the need to use the fact that I'm going out as an insult.

Newsflash: when you care that much about whether people you've never met think you're a loser or not, you're a loser.

BartGg wrote on Fri, 26 October 2007 06:48"you say every 1 knows" have you ever personally met me? no. your all wrong how do you feel?

Except when I say "everyone knows it's true", I'm referring to the fact everyone knows what I said is true because half of Smak have been on the end of one of your spiky bundles of renerage, and the other half have read about it on the forums and laughed their asses off at you.

BartGg wrote on Fri, 26 October 2007 06:48spoony the pyhctic man.. lives in a caravan... with his unibroww caravan? Interesting insult coming as it does from someone completely 100% dependent on his parents, as you are now and probably will be for a lot longer than I was.

By the way, I've got 20 quid says you don't actually go out tonight... because if you act in real life anything like the permanently angry, pathetically insecure loser you act on the internet, there's no way you have any friends.

I'll take that bet Spoony.

I reckon he'll be out tonight etching his name into telephone boxes and/or writing on bus windows with a marker pen, wearing a hoody with loser friends that all think he's an asshole anyway...

That's weak logic.

What's stopping people from using cheats if they have them (for testing purposes)? Common sense, self-restraint, and respect for other gamers and server owners.

I never said anything about logic. That is just my opinion. If you consciously own them, and have used them, then you are a cheater :\

It is my opinion, I don't care if you or anyone else thinks otherwise, in my mind said person is a cheater.

Also some other note I would like to add, my definition of cheater is probably different than yours. I for one normally don't mind playing with a cheater, I mean just as long as they aren't using something that gives them such a high advantage like 90%vs10%. It is fun to challenge yourself.

Something along the lines of: "Hey, your a cheater... and I STILL beat you... HAHHAHA!"

razorblade001I never said anything about logic.

Do you understand what logic is? It's your reasoning and judgment. If you have an opinion without using any logic, then you're a mindless drone that accepted whatever someone told you was correct. Otherwise, you used logic in trying to justify your opinion.

razorblade001That is just my opinion. If you consciously own them, and have used them, then you are a cheater :\

In a loose definition of the term, yes, Spoony can be classified as a cheater. Just as if you consciously defended your house with lethal force. You would be, technically, a murderer.

In my opinion, and using sensible logic, the difference between being a cheater (and a murderer) is the intent. Spoony's intent wasn't to destroy a game but to better understand the cheats, as to properly and more quickly identify the cheaters in clan matches or public servers.

The bandwidth to download a cheat is insignificant, and if you have the willingness to use the cheats, then you have the willingness to download them. Time out of your day? lol? If you have time to play Renegade then you have time to download it. The only good point you bring up is taking risks of viruses.

My point is that, if you have the willingness to cheat, you will do it no matter whether the cheats are on your computer or not.

How am I supposed to know that YOU can control yourself from downloading and using cheats on your computer? Oh?

Not necessarily. If you knew me, even if I had the willingness to actually cheat, I wouldn't have the willingness to go and download one. I'm just that lazy.

What I meant by "time out of my day" is that I don't want to spend hours searching the internet for some cheat that probably wont work, then spend another hour finding another one only to realize that I don't feel like playing anymore.

In a loose definition of the term, yes, Spoony can be classified as a cheater. Just as if you consciously defended your house with lethal force. You would be, technically, a murderer. See? You agree with me!

EDIT: DAMN IT! I did it again.. sorry for double post.

No, I don't agree. I admit that one COULD consider him a cheater, but I don't think one should. If you use a loose definition of the term, then you can consider him a cheater, but if you use common sense, you know that his usage doesn't make him a cheater. His mentality is not that of a cheater.

If you want to play semantics, then go ahead, but the rest of us will use common sense and not consider Spoony a cheater.

How do I, a random person from the internet, know that you don't have the willingness to spend 5 minutes looking for a cheat, and how do I, a random person from the internet, know that you're too lazy to download said cheat?

I should start taking notes XD

That makes 2 rebuttals for my statements that I knew people would say before they even said it.

cheesesoda wrote on Sun, 28 October 2007 15:50 razorblade001 I never said anything about logic. Do you understand what logic is? It's your reasoning and judgment. If you have an opinion without using any logic, then you're a mindless drone that accepted whatever someone told you was correct. Otherwise, you used logic in trying to justify your opinion.

I knew you were going to reply with this

Good for you, yet you still have yet to give any good reasoning as to why we should consider Spooky a cheater. If you're going to use the definition loosely, at least justify it. Semantics are pointless to argue.

neither do you. i got suspended from school 4 times.. [for being racist] i no what it means retard. maybe you need to go look up in a dictionary?

I often do that to verify whatever I claim. YOU were the one that thought racism was ONLY based on skin color. It's like robbing a bank, coming home, and wondering who robbed the bank while they were talking about it on the news!
