VLC and an old version of the K-lite codec pack. The newer versions suck.

What are you trying to play? It would seem that you've installed so many codecs that you've really fucked it up. Its advisable to uninstall all the codec packs installed, install VLC and use the link I gave you. It has all the codecs you'll ever need.

If you goto start > All Programs > K-Lite; There should be a button to uninstall it. Could you define wont play please. Wont display a picture, sound, doesn't load at all, gives an error message etc..

For us to help you you need to help us, give us as much information as you can.

Windows Media Player = Fail

Your not supposed to use that in the first place, use Media Player Classic and if that doesn't work then VLC always does the job.

You know....the two of 4 files I put in that rar.

I ment to edit that but the backup cycle caught it.

Try VLC, if it cant play it then you need to follow the Oblivion Creed.

Uninstall WMP, restart the computer, install WMP 10 (WMP 11 if you're using Vista).

You've probably overwritten a file while mass installing codec packs. Only install 1 codec pack. The CCCP (the link I gave you when I first replied to this thread) should be ALL the codecs you need.

Show me one time in this thread where you thanked people for giving you links and assisting you. Can't find one? Neither could I.

All you're doing is demanding this and that and not listening to the people helping you (ie. Oblivion) because it's not what you wanted to hear. Again, I will say this: fuck you.

One last thing you can try:

Open in MPC

Right click the video and hit properties

Details tab

Screenshot the details tab there for us and lets see what codec your video is trying to use.

If every player on your computer cant play any avi then your most likely going to have to reinstall windows.

Thats usually a last resort but unless you did something easy like installed some beta video drivers or something our help is limited.

Some things that may have caused the problem:

File end

- 1) Installing some massive codec pack that doesn't assign the correct codec to format type.
- 2) Not using Xvid and Divx - These formats can handle just about every codec that isn't specially limited to a product (Fraps codec ect) That means you shouldn't be installing these massive codec packs because there is no need for them.
- 3) FourCC code is incorrect for the specific file. Use FourCC changer to change the type to Xvid and try in MPC. (Comes with Xvid)
- 4) Format is one of the newer formats that are soon to become one of the standards for high definition video IE: Mkv - In this case use VLC

Computer end

- 1) Video drivers are faulty.
- 2) Direct show has a problem with your hardware, most to all video players use DS to render video except for VLC.

3) File type was not designed for attempted player.

Getting episodes to series isn't the problem, its trying to find any series at all that you haven't seen and is good.

Good means:

- 1) Not Anime
 - 2) Went at least 3 seasons
 - 3) Not golden girls or murder she wrote.
