Yea how does that make sense "join a group of people to stand against people in clans" <(can't exactly remember what it was) a group of people could also be a "clan" if you don't want to be known as a clan don't start a group of people or "clan" just be by yourself!

P.s also to add on to that a "community" could also be counted as a "clan" a large clan but a clan none the less.

still dont get it do ya we stand against clans as we allow any one to join no matter how good/bad you are at the game no restrictions?

and we look down on no one and up to no one as we are our self.s

we stand for good game play and team work and are always the first player to mine the base and not like some guys who run streight out for the first kill then call {i need repair } and expect some one to come runing to them as if there god ?

we are the true gamers and the real heart of the game you {yes you} are the player who runs alone has no respect for others and die,s alone in the field so show your support apply the tag ? and join us in our fight to bring back the spark ! to the game world

WHY YOU START WITH THE R-TARD WORD some people out there have disabilities so useing the r-tard word to insult is not nice are you afraid of the competition maybe guys would come to a new forum to avoid being called r-tards
