The Internet is Serious Buissness

I think it depends on how you use it, it's not all buissness and not all play. I mean Renegade is a game, we play it for fun indirectly for pleaseure and entertainment. Or we send important emails and use it for searching info. What do you guys think? I am reffering to the tread from earlier.

It's a pretty well known fact around here (and everywhere else on the internets) that the internet is serrious business. This is taken as a fact. It's assumed to be true and requires no proof. It's as self-evident as $2+2=4$. You questioning it is silly.
