Ok, so this has been really bugging me for quite some time now. There's this map that I don't remember the name of, where I got it, or even when I got it. Pretty sure it was sometime before 2005, because I know I had it before I had moved.

Anyways, I can't remember too much, and honestly, all I can remember are fragments of the map, so I'll post them in no particular order.

-There's one part of the map that has some brown-ish water or something that you can walk in, but you take tiberium damage while doing so.

-It's set in a city, but you can only go inside the structure

-It's something of a research facility or something

-There's some normal sedans and trucks outside of the building

-Some sign in the distance that has Raveshaw on it.

-There's a part of the map that's almost like a glass tunnel that infantry can walk across that's above something else.

-Pretty sure it was DM only, but there were PT's, as I remember running around with Havoc and such.

Sorry if this doesn't narrow it down any. But honestly, that's about all I can remember right now. Also, back then, I had about 3 sources for maps: renstation.net (One hosted alot of maps, then turned into a forum, now is offline I think), renmaps.com (Or .net, I can't remember.), and renegadzone.com (Pretty sure I checked there though, I don't think it's there).

Any help finding this map would be appreciated, because I've looked pretty much everywhere for it. Seems like one of those really cool yet hard to come by maps like C&C_Ancients.mix and such.

Already looked there, I've downloaded pretty much every single map they have (Well, I already had most already). Plus they went to having a huge map pack instead of hosting each map individually, last I checked...

Yea I thought they took the maps out at first I thought they took them out altogether but now they just have that, tho that is only for the supposed to be renhelp server that closed down.

EDIT: Try here > <http://renegade.dmehosting.com/Maps/> it has a wack of maps.

Looked through every single one of those- It's not in there.

I'm thinking it might have been a map made for a clan or something or a map resntation had. Wondering if anyone else remembers this map though, because I remember it being pretty awesome.

When i was playing with learning skins a long time ago i use to go to a site with plenty of maps.

<http://www.renegadezone.com/>

I haven't really looked there in a long time so not sure whats it like lately.

Worth a look...

Sorry for the double post, but I think I might know the name of the map- C&C_Factory.mix.

If anyone happens to have this map, I'd be delighted if you'd share it.
