Ok, stop throwing a fit because we didn't make you a mod.

Renforums has nothing to do with the Kamuix community.

We have no intentions of "tampering with your computer," I apologise for the inconvenience.

I'm not sure if he wants actions against your mods or rather just share his bad experience with everyone.

But if he wants something done from you guys, he should go to your forums, that's true .

If they had a problem with us, they could've came to our forums and the problem would be resolved easier, instead of going out and spreading rumors that our moderators abuse and our servers tamper with your computers.

Dude... the last time havoc was on Kamuix was... Man, I can barely even remember it. Yeah, he was a ass, but not my problem, because Kam just doesn't seem to want to get rid of him.

Just to point this out and I'm sure a lot of people alright know but all well: Mods should be helpful and ban cheaters and look for/test someone if they are one and not blame people for cheating if they get killed or hsed.

Not really needed to say it but meh(post count +1?).

Well I can post the logs showing that you did deserve some form of punishment but I doubt anyone really cares...

Either way I agree what happened was wrong and appropriate action will be taken, you should have just came to our forums though.
