It's not supposed to show up in game. Clan tags in game are, frankly, retarded anyway.

I agree with cmatt42 but not entirely, anyways if you want to have a clan tag ingame you could register one using GSA or just use direct connect.

Clans aren't really supported in the game anymore. They never have been by GSA and have stopped being supported directly on WOL. Clanwars.cc just allows you to retrieve other people who form an entity (named clan) and allows you to organise games against them. They also keep a ladder. But you will not see anything clanwars.cc related in the game itself (except maybe a server).

I hope this clears things up.

On WOL, just go to the screen were you log in and enter a new nick with an 8 letters password. If it's not taken, then you'll get it.
